Illinois Power Names New Officers at Annual Meeting

Stockholders of Illinois Power Co., at their annual meeting Monday, named two members of the board of directors, and the board in turn named a new vice-president of the combination gas and electric utility.

The meetings were held at the IP general office in Decatur, headquarters of the utility which serves 15,000 square miles of Illinois with electricity and gas.

New members of the Board elected by shareholders were Edwin P. Vanderwicken, chairman of the finance committee of Motorola Inc. of Franklin Park, Ill., and George E. Hatmaker, president and chairman of the board of The Franklin Life Insurance Co. of Springfield, Ill.

Elevated to vice-president at a meeting of the board following the annual shareholders meeting was L. N. Talbott, who has been manager of personnel for the company.

Wendell J. Kelley, president of the company, told stockholders at the annual meeting that studies are underway to determine the necessity of filing for increased electric rates to meet rising costs. He said that while no final decision has been made, it is likely that the company will file sometime this summer with the Illinois Commerce Commission for needed rate adjustments.

Electric rates for IPC customers have been reduced four times since 1962. Kelley gave no details of the possible new rate structures but outlined briefly the increases in carrying charges, construction costs, interest rates (up 52% in the last two years), the need to meet new environmental standards resulting from proliferation of environmental agencies, and other costs which he said can no longer be overcome solely by increased efficiencies.

The board at its meeting rejected Mr. Kelley's proposal to elect Mr. Kelley president and Allen Van Wyck chairman of the board.

Officers appointed by the board were Johnson Kanady, assistant to the president; N. H. Olinger, assistant vice-president; A. E. Gray, assistant secretary, and J. B. Burdick, assistant treasurer.

Joseph H. Cannon, a former board member and chairman of the board of Clifford-Jacobs Forging Co., Champaign, did not stand for re-election to the IP board of directors.

In addition to Hatmaker and Vanderwicken, the stockholders elected to the IP board: Q. P. Dorschel, member of the law firm of Schiff Hardin Waite Dorschel and Britton, Chicago; Donald M. Graham, chairman of the board of directors of Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co. of Chicago.

Gordon M. Jones, chairman of the executive committee, Harper & Row Publishers, Inc. Evanston; Kelley, president of Illinois Power; John H. Leslie, chairman of the board of Signode Corp., Chicago; Meenen, senior vice-president of Illinois Power; H. F. Nichols, chairman of the board and president of First Galesburg National Bank and Trust Co., Galesburg.

Schultz, senior vice-president of Illinois Power; Van Wyck, chairman of the board of Illinois Power.

Amend Pension Plan

Stockholders in other actions amended the articles of incorporation of the company in matters dealing with the issuance of serial preferred stock, and amended the company's pension plan.

Talbott was first employed by IPC as director of labor relations in July of 1961. In December of 1962, he was named manager of personnel, a position he has held until his election as vice-president.

He was formerly associated with Central Illinois Light Co. of Peoria and with various other Peoria firms in the area of personnel relations.

Talbott is a graduate of Marquette Community High School, Marquette, Ill., and attended Bradley University at Peoria. He served with the 20th Air Force in World War II based at Guam from 1942 to 1946.

He is a member of the First Methodist Church of Decatur; a 32nd degree Mason; member of the Mohammed Temple Shrine from 1942 to 1946.

He is a member of the Order of Justers, and is a past president

Strong Demand, Acquisition Bolster GC Steel's Outlook

"It is expected that the demand for steel will be strong during the first half of 1971 as manufacturers and other fabricators build inventory against the possibility of a steel strike later in the year," Granite City Steel Co. stockholders were told in the annual printed report of the firm this week.

"Granite City Steel Co. should have good first-half shipments with a more favorable product mix than in 1970, when we maintained operations at a high volume only by shipping large tonnages of semi-finished steel," Nicholas P. Veder, board chairman and chief executive officer, and Lyle F. Gullett, president, said in a joint statement.

"The company's production facilities are now in better balance than in 1970 and we are correspondingly better able to support the rebuilding of our market position."

Cost-Price Gap
"We are also hopeful that the increase in raw material and other costs will not escalate as rapidly as in 1970, and that it will be possible to close some of the inflationary gap between costs and prices," they noted.

"Net income in 1970 was $3,355,000 or 76 cents per share of common stock, compared with $1,672,000 or 32 cents per share in 1969, when results were affected by unusual, temporary costs and prices," they noted.

"Production and shipments in 1970 were up slightly over 1969 and higher than any previous year."

"Nevertheless, 1970 fell short of expectations and was not a satisfactory year for Granite City Steel or the steel industry. Shortages, recession."

"It was a year of recession with the durable goods sector of the economy operating considerably below recent levels. In addition, 1970 was characterized by disruptive strikes, highly inflationary trends and shortages of metallurgical coal and coke which resulted in costly interruptions to steel mill production."

"Operations and shipments were also adversely affected throughout the second quarter of 1970 by the truck strike and in the fourth quarter by the auto strike, which closed down the nation's largest single user of steel."

"Prices of our flat-rolled steel products were raised in 1970 but these increases — which averaged 3.7% on our 1970 product mix — were far below what was needed to compensate for the higher costs incurred during the year."

Materials Much Costlier

"There were substantial increases in the cost of virtually everything we buy — and extraordinary increases in the cost of some raw materials we consume in large quantities."

"Our costs for metallurgical coal increased 39% during 1970, purchased coke increased 69% and fuel oil increased 83%. Steel price increases have fallen short of steel cost increases for the last five years."

"Despite the interruptions and delays which marked 1970 operations, our major units — from blast furnaces through rolling mills and finishing departments — were able to increase their output over 1969."

"The expansion and modernization of the late 1960s have given us much greater production capabilities."

Building Products
"It was a good year for our line of agricultural building products, including Strongspan galvanized steel roofing and siding and Strongpanel galvanized and color-coated steel roofing and siding."

"We were also encouraged by the initial market acceptance of a new galvanized product, Sheet Metal Softform, for air-conditioning and heating ductwork — a market with tremendous potential for this company. The future for our galvanized sheet products is very promising."

"The American steel industry can expect continued problems with lower-priced foreign steel as a result of the much lower wage levels which prevail abroad."

"Government action is essential to prevent steel imports from reaching intolerable proportions and to ensure the continued existence of a strong and American steel industry capable of supporting a healthy and growing national economy."

"The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency in November filed a complaint charging that certain Granite City Steel operations were in violation of the Illinois Air Pollution Control Act and the Illinois Environmental Protection Act."

"The complaint seeks to impose fines and to require the company to discontinue the alleged violations. We don't agree that we were or are in violation of existing rules and regulations, and intend to resist the charges contained in the complaint before the Illinois Pollution Control Board."

Plant Comparison Favorable
"The company is making every effort to resolve the issues presented in the proceeding."

"Granite City Steel has invested millions of dollars in air pollution control and in environmental control in general."

"We are actively engaged in cooperative research with other steel companies and the U. S. government to develop adequate technology for dealing with air pollution problems where there is presently no effective means of control."

"The company has already made considerable progress in pollution abatement. We believe that plant now compares favorably with any integrated steel plant in the U.S."

39 Homes Are Sold in Month With Multiple List Service

Ralph Morris of Morris Realty Co. in Granite City, chairman of the new Granite City Multiple Listing Service, announced today the successful results — 39 sales — of the first month of operations of this new real estate sales service.

There are now over 200 homes in the Quad-City area listed with the Multiple Listing Service by 11 realtor members from the Granite City board. There are also five affiliate members, which include banks and savings and loan associations in this area.

Morris described the new system as a method of homeowners getting the advantage of sales coverage by all member offices in the Multiple Listing Service.

All the homeowner has to do is list his property with one of the 11 members of the Service and that realtor is responsible for advertising the property. However, a picture of the home, together with all pertinent facts about it, is circulated to the other members and, thus, the 11 member offices are all involved in helping to sell the property.

The homeowner only pays one commission — regardless of which member sells his home — and details of each sale are handled on a cooperative basis between the various offices involved.

"Also, home seekers can readily obtain information on all the listings by contacting the realtor member of their choice. This saves considerable time and effort on the prospective home buyer's part," Morris said.

He added, "As evidenced by the first month's results of 39 sales, the Multiple Listing Service is proving to be a real help to sellers and buyers in our area."

Absentee Voting Set In Levee Election

Monday will be the first day on which voters may cast absentee ballots by mail for the May 4 primary election of nominees for two posts on the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, Miss Eulalia Hotz, county clerk, announced today.

Three Democrats and one Republican are seeking two non-nominate positions in each party. Two Democrats and two Republicans are to be nominated in the special primary called by Governor Richard B. Ogilvie who maintains a vacancy exists in all of the five trusteeships of the levee board.

Three of the levee board members are from St. Clair county and are to be elected in that county. Madison county's two board members will be elected in the Madison county sector of the levee district, comprised primarily of the Quad-City area.

Governor Ogilvie declared the trustees posts vacant because of the conviction of the present board members on charges of misconduct in office. The conviction has been appealed, however, and the Supreme Court is expected to rule soon on whether or not the present trustees shall remain in office pending outcome of the appeal.

Since only one Republican has filed in the primary in Madison county, Miss Hotz said the ballot includes a space for writing in the name of a nominee.

The last day for casting an absentee ballot by mail will be April 26 and May 1 is the last day for casting an absentee ballot in person.

Ogilvie Plan Not in Conflict With Contracts, Lawyers Say in Court

By IRA TEINOWITZ
Press-Record
Springfield Correspondent

Attorneys for the state and federal governments Wednesday asked Federal Court Judge Omer Poos to declare the Ogilvie Plan for hiring black construction workers valid and to declare the plan takes precedence over any collective bargaining agreement.

David L. Rose, attorney for the Department of Justice, and James Wining, special assistant attorney for the state, told the court that President Nixon's executive order requiring a formative action program by contractors was issued before contracts were signed in Madison and St. Clair counties.

The Southern Illinois Builders Association and the Southern Illinois Contractors Association are asking the court to invalidate the Ogilvie Plan either totally or where it conflicts with previously signed labor agreements.

The state and federal governments are asking that the plan be ruled legal and the labor unions be ordered to comply with the plan.

The Ogilvie Plan provides that the union shall provide with black trainees, teaching them construction trades and getting them jobs. It was the result of a freeze on construction imposed by the U. S. Department of Transportation because unions in the counties were not following federal guidelines regarding equal opportunity.

Rose on Monday revealed that in 1968, when the freeze was first enforced, three unions: the Cement Masons, Ironworkers and Operating Engineers had 1,882 members, only one of which, a mason, was black.

Gangnath Testifies
Harold Gangnath, executive director of SIBA, Tuesday testified to the history of the attempt to get the plan implemented.

He said SIBA was aware of differences before the Ogilvie Plan and labor agreements.

"When we raised the point," he said, "the Justice Department assured us they could handle any contract."

Asked by Judge Omer Poos what the cause of racial strife in the East St. Louis area was, he replied, "It is impossible to get the minorities, unions and contractors together to adopt and agree upon a program."

In testimony Tuesday, Harold Grunberg, council for the unions, said they were coerced into signing the plan and said the plan discriminates against union members and violates the Civil Rights Act.

Grunberg spent three hours describing the objections the unions had to the plan. Poos also asked Grunberg about the cause of the racial strife.

Grunberg blamed much of the problem on the Ogilvie Plan.

Poos asked if a black man could get a job through the unions. "The union may not discriminate," Grunberg replied. "If that is the law, why is there a labor strife? Isn't the Civil Rights Act aimed at racial balance?" Poos asked.

Nothing that until 1968 there were few black in the trades, the judge asked "what has been done since."

Grunberg said that the unions entered consent decrees after the complaints had come to their attention.

He plans a three and one-half day seminar with an expected attendance of 40 people in May at Pere Marquette State Park near Grafton. Brown has received a state grant which must be matched with private funds to continue the seminar. To date the Kiwanis Club, Granite City Ministerial Association and the Granite City School Board have made contributions.

The entire program is planned for teachers from the local schools, ministers, doctors, law enforcement officers and interested persons.

The next meeting will feature Larry Peterson as guest speaker who will discuss the area-wide employment impact of the proposed airport. April 12 will be ladies night with a special program being planned.

Another project discussed by the members was a financial gift donated to a group of students at Madison High School for an educational trip to Europe this summer.

Kiwanis, Key Club Awarded Medals

Kiwanis International and the high school boy's service organization which it sponsors, Key Club International, have both won George Washington honor medals from Freedom's Foundation at Valley Forge in the 1970 competition, according to information received here by Norman Hall, president of the local Kiwanis Club.

The Kiwanis award resulted from its 1970-71 major emphasis program, Operation Drug Alert, on a national and international basis.

During the meeting Monday evening at the Rose Bowl, financial assistance was given to Jerry Brown, counselor at Granite City High School, for a drug seminar.

He plans a three and one-half day seminar with an expected attendance of 40 people in May at Pere Marquette State Park near Grafton. Brown has received a state grant which must be matched with private funds to continue the seminar. To date the Kiwanis Club, Granite City Ministerial Association and the Granite City School Board have made contributions.

The entire program is planned for teachers from the local schools, ministers, doctors, law enforcement officers and interested persons.

Sen. Percy Proposes Bill To Aid Nation's Elderly

Sen. Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) yesterday called the treatment of America's senior citizens a national disgrace and announced he will introduce a seven-point proposal to improve housing, health care, recreation, employment and transportation opportunities for America's elderly citizens.

"We have ignored the needs of the elderly. We have turned our backs on them. Their maturity, stability and accumulated wisdom have no market value and when the physical evidence of approaching age can no longer be camouflaged, we shut them off to bleak existences. They become a stigmatized subculture," Percy said.

"Ageism, with its implications of segregation and discrimination, is as virulent a phenomenon as racism, and I submit, equally destructive. For example," he said,

"One out of four Americans 65 or over now is forced to live on a poverty level income."

"The number and proportion of aged poor increased between 1958 and 1968 even with a war on poverty. In 1969, 4.8 million people 65 and older were living in poverty, almost 200,000 more than in 1968. In the same period, poverty declined by 1.2 million in all other age groups."

"Average health costs for the aged in 1969 were $692 per person, 2½ times that for those in the 18-64 age bracket. Medicare pays less than one-half of the health costs for the elderly."

"Less than 1% of the federal mental health budget goes to research on aging or the aged even though 25% of admissions to mental hospitals are of persons aged 65 or over."

"Equal opportunity for housing, health care, employment and recreational advantages must be restored to our senior citizens," Percy said. "I believe my legislative proposals will begin that restoration."

Percy's seven-point proposal includes:

- A bill to create an Assistant Secretary of Housing for the Elderly within the office of HUD, to administer, plan and coordinate housing programs for the elderly.
- A bill to improve conditions in long-term care facilities which would develop more comprehensive and stricter facilities standards for these facilities and provide for inspection, training and enforcement monies.
- A bill to remove travel restrictions on the elderly imposed because of lack of funds by requiring half-fare opportunities on mass transit facilities, trains and buses crossing state lines and airlines, during non-rush hours or on a seat-availability basis. This bill would also make it a federal offense to deny automatic insurance on the basis of advanced age.
- A bill to restore 100% deductibility of medical expenses for seniors.
- A bill to include drugs under Medicare which would eliminate partial payment by the consumer.
- A bill to provide employment opportunities for the elderly by setting up a wide range of counseling, training, supporting and research activities in the Department of Labor.

—A bill to provide for construction, staffing and maintenance of programs within multipurpose community centers for senior citizens. Such centers could serve as the focal point for delivery of community services to the elderly, including nutrition, transportation and informational services.

Letters by the group were announced yesterday in Washington. The lawyers were active last year in contacts with General Motors Corp.

The show is a full two-hour, fun-packed family type show made up of lots of good clean comedy, folk songs, old time fiddle tunes, five string banjo pickin', some of the old time

4 Alarms Wednesday For Venice Firemen

Venice firemen answered four fire alarms yesterday, all involving minor damage.

At 12:20 p.m. firemen extinguished a grass fire near the Illinois Terminal Railroad line south of the city. At 1:45 p.m. they were called to the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center where a lightning cigarette thrown into a trash can started a fire. That blaze had been extinguished when firemen arrived.

At 2:37 p.m. they were called again to the highline where two support beams were burning at the base. Arson is suspected. At 7:55 p.m. firemen were called to extinguish a grass fire along the railroad tracks near the dog pound.

The East-West Gateway Coordinated Council board yesterday voted to have its staff develop a housing plan for the entire bi-state region, including practical steps to assure good, low-cost housing, such as building code revisions where needed.

The special has been in effect since February on the 1971 models. 20 Burglary, Theft Cases Occur in Area This Week

Twenty cases of burglary and theft were reported to Quad City police this week.

Four persons were arrested. Ronald Gene Hutchins, 36, of Brighton, and Timothy H. Douglas, 27, of Edwardsville, were charged this week with theft of more than $150 after they were arrested in the C&E Railroad yards at Mitchell. Sheriff's deputies said they were in the process of removing about $400 worth of copper wire from a boxcar and loading it into a truck. Bonds were set at $55,000.

David C. Dawson, 42, of 1704 Cleveland Blvd., was charged with burglary following a break-in at the home of Elwin Pare, 2300 Edwards St., this week.

The police report said that neighbors saw him breaking a door glass to gain entry. One of them obtained a license number of an auto. A woman in the car blew the horn and Dawson ran out of the house.

A portable radio valued at $80 was stolen from an unattended pickup truck on the lot at the Granite City Dodge Agency, it was reported Monday.

An antenna mast for an amateur radio and a resonator were stolen from the home of Dennis Schiber, 18 Bermuda Lane, while it was parked in the driveway at 1214 W. Pontoon Road, he reported at 11:45 p.m. Monday.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to enter the car as the left window was sprung.

A red mini-trail bike valued at $300 was stolen from the garage at the home of William Timley, 1532 Clark Ave., he reported at 9:45 p.m. Tuesday.

A blue minibus valued at $100 was stolen from the front yard of the home of Dennis Timley, 2703 Roosevelt Ave., he reported at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday.

A light blue 1967 pickup truck valued at $700 was stolen from the garage at the home of William Timley, 1532 Clark Ave., he reported at 11:35 a.m. today from Granite City Steel Co. parking lot at 18th Street and Madison Avenue.

A white-over-green 1961 four-door auto owned by Ed Brusewitz, Edwardsville, was reported stolen at 11:35 a.m. today from Granite City Steel Co.'s 16th Street parking lot after 3 p.m. Wednesday.

A 1964 auto reported stolen by John Sutton, 1207 W. 22nd St., at 11:40 p.m. was found this week by Madison County sheriff's deputies with its engine blown. It was towed to a garage.

Noel Bailey, 1527 Clark Ave., reported at 4:05 p.m. Tuesday that during the day someone unscrewed a ham radio aerial from the top of his station wagon and stole it while the vehicle was parked on the Granite City Steel Co. lot at E. 20th and Nash streets during the day. It was valued at $20.

Mayor Donald Partney should know better than most aldermen about what transpired on the Namaste sewer as he was an alderman at the time. Yet he did not mention at any time his feelings on the engineering services in question. Also, he attempted to appoint the same engineering firm which actually did the layout work on the Namaste sewers, and he voted for the bond issue that requires the $2.50 per month payment by the residents in the area. That bond issue probably won't be paid off until 1983.

As for the gag rule Mayor Partney talks of, there was a good example of this at the city council meeting of March 22, 1971. The mayor would not let a qualified engineer speak at the request of the 6th Ward alderman who tried to get information to the council concerning a problem of zoning in his ward. The mayor talks of gag rule by the council, but practices gag rule himself.

"The Granite City Council has overriden more votes of Mayor Donald Partney than all the preceding mayors of Granite City, Illinois, since 1896. The people of Granite City should stop and think about this. How can the council always be in error and the mayor always right?"

The statement was signed by Aldermen William Dallas, Clyde Boyd, Claude Green, Walter Nunn, Gerald Parmley, Everett Morlen, R. E. Robertson, Paul Schuler, Charles McMillen, Emerald Dawes, Roy Paulos and Steve Basarich.

Aldermen who did not sign it are Paul Rutledge, Sam Whitmer and Thomas Boker.

draws, napkins and ice cream were thrown over the floors, tables and ceiling in the cafeteria.

Attempts were made to open the soda and another consolation machine. Locks were broken off of two milk boxes. A clock in the cafeteria had stopped at 10:10 p.m.

Burglars took a portable television and a radio-tape player combination from the apartment of Willie Teal, 413 Weary St., Venice, last night. The house was entered by breaking a front window, Teal reported at 11:35 p.m.

A stereo tape player, four tapes and two speakers valued at $74 were stolen from the auto of Lynn Squires, 2455 Edwards St., at Bowland, he reported to Madison County authorities this week. Entry was gained by cutting the top, causing $100 damage.

A portable radio valued at $80 was stolen from an unattended pickup truck on the lot at the Granite City Dodge Agency, it was reported Monday.

laying off policemen and firemen.

"One example of Mayor Partney's economy was to reduce the air pollution appropriation at a time when elimination of air pollution is one of the most important problems facing the people today.

"Another example of false economy in Mayor Partney's budget is that he capped the bond extension fund to create the impression of a low budget. The council had to put this in thus raising the budget.

"2. Abolishing the office of Comptroller. During the 1969 Mayoral campaign, Mayor Partney publicly stated he favored the elimination of the comptroller's job and office—the aldermen reviewed and researched the operations of the cities of Belleville and St. Louis which had no comptroller.

"The Aldermen then moved to abolish the office of comptroller and then the mayor vetoed the aldermen's suggested ordinance after publicly stating the job was not needed.

"3. It was Mayor Partney who promoted the borrowing of $100,000 at 5% interest. The council opposed this and insisted that the $100,000 fund be used for other purposes before any money was borrowed. If the council had followed the mayor's leadership instead of using its own intelligence, the result would have been either:

"(a) The city would have had to pay interest on $100,000 if it had to have to borrow because it had money on hand that could be used.

"Because of the council exercising its judgment, it is intended by the law and not submitting to becoming a "rubber stamp" to be used in support of every suggestion made by the mayor—be it good or bad—the city didn't have to borrow money to have to cut any essential services.

4. Illinois state statutes provide any appointments by the mayor should be made with the advice and consent of the city council. This was supported by the recent council decision.

"5. The mayor bragged of putting things on the police desk. This is not as simple as it seems. The desk clerk is in charge of taking calls and sending police via radio to disturbances as good work for women, but the desk clerk is also in charge of dressing properly to receive visitors. The people of Granite City would not, we feel, want to see a woman in a uniform, drunk, dangerous criminals or sex offenders and exhibitionists.

There would have to be a policeman present but this would not be a savings as the mayor states.

Senate Votes To Again Honor Lincoln Feb. 12

A bill restoring Feb. 12 as the day Illinoisans celebrate Lincoln's birthday—it was officially Feb. 1 in this state in 1971—was approved unanimously yesterday by the Illinois Senate. House action is awaited.

The Senate on Tuesday passed 34-14 a bill permitting three-month driving license suspensions for motorists refusing to have their breath tested for alcoholic content.

In other Springfield developments, Gov. Ogilvie said Monday that Illinois public schools may receive $25 to $30 million in additional federal funds this year, and he proclaimed April 28 as Prisoner of War Day in Illinois.

Cadmium Level of Water Supply is Questioned

The East St. Louis & Iper-urban Water Co. has been accused of taking water near the company's intake on the Mississippi River are above the federal limits for cadmium. The federal report stated that water at the intake location contain 36 micrograms of cadmium in a public water source.

According to General Manager Robert Greaves, samples of company water are taken daily to laboratories and the samples showed the water to be within the federal limits. The Illinois Department of Health also receives water samples several times a month.

MORE ABOUT Depot

The 29-year-old installation to close last March, the Depot's civilian payroll consisted of 1,430 people.

About 70 enlisted men and 14 Army officers, including the Depot's top military administrative staff, continue to function here. All other troops, numbering more than 300 men last March, have been reassigned.

Troop training, another function of the Army Depot in recent years, was discontinued in August.

Among 674 employees who had left the local installation by last month, a total of 445 found employment in other government agencies; 72 persons joined industrial firms; 109 retired; and 92 persons resigned for other reasons, Hengehold said.

From the 674 persons, 140 left the area. Of these, 87 were from the Quad-Cities. Hengehold said similar proportions in retirees and transfers is expected among those still in the Depot.

Right to Transfer
Under Civil Service rules, career employees with the government had the right to transfer with their mission to Tobyhanna, Pa., Tooele, or other federal facilities where their specific mission was reassigned, he explained.

Employees remaining here with area support mission functions include those whose jobs involve family housing, commissary, station supply, chaplain, community services, certain finance and accounting, procurement, special services, officer and non-commissioned officer messes and passenger and household goods.

A small number in other services—whose positions relate to those remaining here with the area support mission—also will stay until inactivation is completed.

Military units, as yet unassigned, include the 50th Ordnance Detachment (explosive disposal unit, assigned to the Depot from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and the Field Veterinary Food Inspectors Office.

A total of 122 housing units in St. Louis, plus those located on the local base will continue to be managed from here, Hengehold said.

FERTILIZING SHADE TREES

Proper fertilizing will speed the growth of any tree, but young trees respond better than mature trees.

Careful study of different methods of fertilizing trees showed the well fertilized tree method as good as any. Fertilizer in holes in the ground was compared with fertilizer injected in the soil and spread on the surface. In all cases the treated area extended from the trunk to the end of the limbs.

When the surface method produced just as much growth as the other methods it was suggested the easy way to maintain a healthy vigorous tree.

You can achieve the same results by double fertilizing the tree under your trees. When you double the fertilizer rate beneath and near your trees the tree receives an adequate supply while the tree gets the rest.

Look at the outside views of your tree and take an average. When you can find the growth ring of previous seasons, compare the growth for several seasons. If your tree is making the average, or better, your fertilizer plan for trees is just about right.

People make good resolutions, but have enough resolutions.

Quest Continues for Outstanding Officer

The deadline to nominate a Granite City policeman as candidate for "Outstanding Police Officer of the Year" honors is Saturday, April 10, Clyde F. Mertz, Americanism chairman for Granite City Elks Lodge 1063, announced today.

A second ballot, published in today's Press-Record, may be used to submit nominations, Mertz said. He explained, however, the officer's name and department also can be written on a slip of paper and submitted.

The police officer selected will be honored at the Elks first annual "Law and Order Banquet," scheduled to take place Wednesday, May 12, as part of "National Law and Order Week" observances.

All ranks of police department personnel from the four-community area who are employed on a full-time basis are eligible to be nominated for the award, with exception of police chiefs and assistant chiefs. Mertz pointed out that nomination was made after consultation with the department heads.

In addition to nominations by the public, the police officers themselves have been invited to nominate one or more candidates from their department, the chairman said. All nominations must be received by the same deadline date, he stressed.

Evaluation Criteria
Several categories will be evaluated in selecting the outstanding police officer. Primary consideration will be given to the candidate's professional ability, including general excellence in police work and

Airport Study Results in 30 Days, Authority Told

Results of an engineering study to aid in selection of a site for the proposed $350 million airport in the Illinois sector of the metropolitan area will be completed and made public within the next 30 days, Robert B. Lamkin, chairman of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority, announced in a meeting of the authority yesterday afternoon.

The study, being conducted by the R. Dixon Speas Associates, Manassas, Long Island, N.Y., will consider the suitability of three sites for the new air facility. The sites are near Columbia, Troy and Belleville.

The announcement of the site suggested by the study probably will be made at the next regular meeting of the authority, April 28. Both Lamkin and Arven H. Saunders, executive director of the authority, admitted the announcement may be made from Springfield before the next meeting.

Also at the meeting, Ron Langhans, a Columbia pharmacist, presented the authority with an additional 600 signatures of registered voters in Columbia, Waterloo and Millstadt opposing the possible choice of a Columbia site for the airport. Langhans said 2,000 signatures against the facility being constructed there were sent to the governor last month. Langhans said that citizens of the Columbia area feel that "would create a hardship on our area." He cited an inadequate school system, a loss of farm land and the loss of a large gas storage facility in the area which would be removed by the construction.

"It seems a shame to take a large part of our country and put it in the same financial difficulties as other metropolitan areas," he commented. "I think there are several other areas that would be more suitable."

Lamkin informed the board of a meeting with the heads of all airlines serving St. Louis which he and Saunders attended earlier this week. He said that "a lot of things were con-

Warriors Lose to Wood River 7-3

Granite City High School's baseball Warriors lost their first game of the season and their first Southwestern Conference game Tuesday, here, against Wood River 7-3.

The overall Warrior record is now 3-1.

Warrior Don Harris hit a four-bagger in the second inning with two men on to account for all three Warrior runs. Harris, who has been hitting well, was three-for-three Tuesday. Jerry Duncan got the only other Warrior hit in four trips to the plate.

It was a 3-3 game going into the seventh frame when Wood River scored four runs.

The Warriors used three pitchers. Ned Tapp lasted for three and a third innings, John Stanton followed for three and two thirds innings and Ray Hoffman pitched the last out.

"We made a lot of mental errors in the last inning," Coach Gale Garbe said. "Their pitcher was good but not great. Our defensive cutoffs were poor."

Alton visits Granite City for a league game at 4 p.m. today.

Baseball Trojans Drop Two Games

Madison Trojan baseball team suffered a shut out, 10-0, at the hands of Roxana Tuesday in Madison after bowing to East St. Louis, 13-3 on Monday. John Gardner got the only hit for the Trojans in the second inning.

The shells scored two runs in the second, and two in the third. Shell second baseman Dave Scroggins hit a four bagger with no one on base in the fourth for another run.

Trojan hurler Ron McLaughlin was replaced by Courtney Prothro in the fifth inning, but the shells kept scoring with three in the fifth and two in the sixth and final inning.

The Madison Junior varsity had worse luck as they were defeated by Roxana 27-1.

All three Trojan runs against East Side came in the first inning when Bert Thompson, Trojan third baseman, doubled with two men on base; but he was tagged out trying to stretch his hit into a triple. Prothro then singled and Mike Stern drove him home.

Doug Funville started on the mound for the Trojans and was relieved in the fourth inning by Curt Homes.

The game was called at the end of the fifth inning as East St. Louis had a 10 run lead.

The Trojans will travel to Triad Friday for a 4 p.m. game.

Cougar 9 Tops Ole Miss 13-9

A two-run homer by John "Champ" Summers of Granite City sparked Southern Illinois University-Southwestern to a 13-9 victory over the University of Mississippi Monday at Oxford.

The success gave the local Cougars a 2-4 record as they closed their Southern tour. Their home opener will be tomorrow with Western Illinois University, with a doubleheader set here Saturday against Winona (Minn.) State.

Summers collected two of 15 Cougar hits. Third baseman Rick Keefe came through with a grand-slam home run as the Cougars came up with five runs in the third inning. Malone and Middleton worked on the mound for the winners, giving up 13 hits.

Hostesses were Mesdames Ann Messick, Toni Layloff, Fannie Rydzig, Betty Gudic, Jennie Turner and Eva Mauer, all aunts of the prospective bridegroom, and Mrs. Ross Tarasovich, an aunt of the bride-to-be.

Refreshments were served to 150 guests, seated at tables decorated in a blue and white theme.

Miss Mulnik will become the bride of Michael E. Leatherman III, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael E. Leatherman Jr., of Venice, May 22 at St. Mark's Catholic Church.

Former Miss America to Crown New Miss GC; Jaycees Seek Candidates

The annual search for attractive and talented young women to compete in the Miss Granite City Pageant was given added impetus this week with an announcement that a former Miss America, Judi Ford of Belvidere, Ill., will bestow the crown of office on the local winner.

The beauty-talent pageant, auspices of the Granite City Jaycees, will be staged this year at the Washington Theatre on June 24.

A lavish array of entertainment is being planned for the event, according to Jan. J. Langenstein, Jaycee pageant chairman.

Prospective candidates for the 1971 Miss Granite City Pageant are now being sought by the young men's service club, those interested are invited to call Muriel Langenstein, at 877-0700 (day) or 877-8754, 877-8762 (evening); Pat Fry, at 452-8869 (day) or 876-2265 (evening); or Ron Shover, 877-4941 (day) or 831-6569 (evening).

Langenstein said a telegram received this week confirmed Miss Ford's appearance at the Granite City pageant. She will be the first Miss America to crown a local candidate in the bi-state metropolitan area.

Judi won the Miss America title in 1969 as Miss Illinois. In addition to her beauty, poise and vivacious personality, the stunning blonde amazed Atlantic City judges with her ability on the trampoline. She is a former Junior Women's National AAU Trampoline Champion, having gained the title in 1968 at Dallas, Texas.

Currently enrolled as a full-time student at the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana, as a junior majoring in physical education, Judi still makes frequent public appearances, rising about one day a week from classes at Dallas.

Her chosen career, Contestants may be amateur or professional, Langenstein stated.

Prospective candidates are asked to contact those named previously as quickly as possible, the chairman said.

She is pledged to the Delta Gamma Social Sorority at the U. of I. and resides in Urbana at the Delta Gamma House. As Miss America, she traveled more than 250,000 miles, including a tour of Vietnam with the USO.

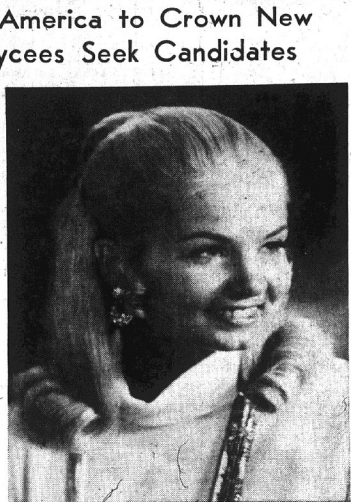

The former Miss America became engaged last July 4 to Edwin Johnson of Rockford. The wedding is planned for August.

Her fiancé received his bachelor's degree in physical education from the University of Illinois in January and plans to continue study toward a master's degree as well as teach and coach on a part-time basis.

Contestant Rules: Langenstein said prospective candidates for the Miss Granite City Pageant must be citizens of the United States; at least 18 years of age and not more than 28 years, as of September 6, 1971; have never been married; of good moral character; and a resident of this area for at least six months.

In addition, contestants are required to be high school graduates by Sept. 7, 1971; possess a pleasing personality; possess poise, charm and intelligence and display a talent in a presentation not to exceed 2:50 minutes.

The talent segment of a candidate's appearance may include singing, dancing, playing a musical instrument, displaying art or clothing design, or giving a reading or a speech on any subject.

The Garden Corner

GROWING FRUIT TREES IN THE HOME ORCHARD

You can grow fruit trees in the home orchard for an interesting and satisfying hobby. With careful selection, proper location and good management, a fruit tree will enhance your home landscape and provide you with high-quality tree-ripened fruit.

Before planting, consider such factors as available space, fruit production per tree, pollination requirements, space needed per tree, equipment needs, time from planting to bearing, useful life of the tree, and type of tree.

A small to moderate-sized planting for the beginner is recommended. Start with two to six trees and add more later. You will harvest more fruit from a small, well-cared-for orchard than from a large, poorly-cared-for planting.

Dwarfed trees are available from most reputable nurseries and readily fit into the small suburban garden. They are easy to prune, spray and harvest. The fruit produced is usually equal to or better in size, color and quality than from standard trees. Espallier-type training can be used to blend the plants into the landscape plan or provide a novel producing unit. Dwarfed espalliered trees tend to produce fruit at an early age.

When apples and pears are to be planted in the home orchard or landscape plan, the use of dwarf trees overcomes the objection to the large size attained by standard trees. Stone fruit trees (peach, plum, cherry, apricot) are also available on dwarfing stocks. While not as thoroughly tested as the apples and pears, trees of these fruits can be a valuable addition to the planting. If regular nursery trees are used, they can be dwarfed or kept small by pruning.

Trees with several different varieties of one kind on one trunk are available. Such trees may be of value where there is space for only one or two trees. These are sold as multiple variety or 5-in-1 trees by the nursery.

A hobbyist can make his own 5-in-1 or even a 25-in-1 tree by budding and grafting. However, fruit trees require considerable care. If you are unable to devote the proper amount of time to a home orchard you will probably be disappointed at harvest time.

Different fruits vary in amount of care required. The greatest variations are in the susceptibility to disease attacks and the length of time from bloom to harvest. There are also differences in these characteristics between varieties of the same fruit. Spraying for diseases and insects requires the greatest amount of time. Generally speaking, you must spray to protect flowers and fruit from pests from blossom to harvest. Other sprays are required to protect leaves, fruit and limbs at various times of the year.

Always consider the length of the required spray schedule when selecting fruits and varieties. Cherries, for example, ripen in early June and have the shortest spray schedule. The spray schedule for apples that ripen in July is two months shorter than for Golden Delicious apples that ripen in September or October. Early maturing peaches require fewer sprays than late-season varieties.

The length-of-spray-schedule range for fruit trees from the shortest to the longest is cherries, early peaches, apricots, summer apples, late peaches, plums, pears, and fall and winter apples. Home gardeners might do best to grow the short-season varieties and buy late-varieties from area orchards.

STARTING VEGETABLE TRANSPLANTS

Broccoli, cauliflower and cabbage should be seeded now for early transplanting. If you buy these, but grow transplants of tomatoes, eggplant and peppers, its time to prepare for seeding. These vegetables need 5 to 8 weeks from the time of seeding to develop into good transplants. For early May planting, this means that you should start in early March.

Cucumbers and melons can also be started indoors, but these require only 4 to 5 weeks between seeding and planting. Start these in early April for garden setting in early May. The cucumbers should be sown in the time of individual container such as a peat pot for best results.

Healthy and vigorous transplants are possible if you use good seed, a good soil mix, adequate heat, light and moisture, and proper management. For more information on this subject, ask for Circular 884 "Growing Vegetable Transplants" from the Publications Office, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois 61801, or your nearest county agriculture Extension Office.

FAREWELL TO JOE KASTELIC. Friends and associates of Joseph Kastelic Sr., Granite City chief of detectives and a member of the police department for 30 years, wish him well at a gathering in the mayor's conference room at city hall. Kastelic is retiring, effective April 30. Left to right around the table are the guest of honor and his wife, Mrs. Anna Kastelic, cutting the cake; their daughter, Mrs. Richard Bertacchi; sons, Robert F. and Officer Joseph D. Kastelic; Miss Hetty Sheppard, member of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners; Mayor Donald Partney and Chief of Police Ron Veizer.

Illinois 61801, or your nearest county agriculture Extension Office.

DORMANT SPRAY TIME FOR FRUIT PLANTINGS

Dormant sprays to fruit plants are so-called because they are applied before growth starts in the spring. They are used to control insect and disease problems that are difficult to combat in other ways and at other times.

The primary material used for insect control at this time is plant spray oil—a non-toxic, safe pesticide that kills through suffocation rather than poisoning. Insect scales are the principle pest.

If disease control is needed, especially plum pockets and peach leaf curl, use Captan, a fungicide, or fenoxystrobin, a safe pesticide that kills through suffocation rather than poisoning. Insect scales are the principle pest.

Spraying should be done on a warm, calm day and at a time when it will not freeze for 24 hours. Try to get thorough coverage of all limbs and branches. A build-up of scale insects has been observed, so this spray is very important.

Also, remember to keep oil sprays from drifting onto painted buildings or fences. Otherwise, discoloration will occur.

Black raspberries suffer from anthracnose disease and a delayed dormant (green tip) spray of fine sulfur is recommended. However, time sulfur is difficult to find. If unavailable in your area, plan to spray with an all purpose spray mix or Captan or zinc at 10 day intervals from green tip through June 15, plus one spray immediately after harvest. This program will control enough infection to give good yields.

SELECTING TREE FRUIT VARIETIES FOR SW ILLINOIS

Cold winter evenings are a hindrance to the nursery catalogs for fruit variety selection and dream of future harvests. Many varieties are available and adapted to this area. However, many fail to grow to expectations or descriptions.

Nursery catalogs are a tradition in this country. The photos and descriptions of beautiful, large fruits and vegetables make one believe that selection of a variety is very important. You should reserve the right to read between the lines. Be skeptical of some of the claims about a plant or variety.

Patented varieties are a trend in the nursery industry. Many patents give a nursery exclusive propagation and sales rights for approximately 17 years. Thus, nurseries may promote patented varieties rather than recommended varieties. Or, a recommended variety may not be available from every nursery. Several sources may have to be contacted to get what you want.

All temperate fruits have adapted varieties for this area. Some may be more successful than others. Proper variety selection is important because a fruit plant or planting should last for several years. An investment in time and money is required to bring them into production. In the case of apples and pears, its possible to wait 5-10 years for the first fruits. If the variety is poor or worthless, everything has been lost.

Poor nursery stock is also a poor investment. Good plant material from a reputable nursery is the best insurance for a successful planting.

A variety should be adapted to the climate, possess good quality, and ripen in a desirable season. Most varieties are good enough for any home use but some have exceptional quality for fresh eating, canning or freezing. These characteristics are usually noted in fruit descriptions in the nursery catalogs.

Maturity season is of prime importance to many gardeners. Extremely early and extremely late ripening varieties usually lack some of the quality of mid-season sorts. However, earliness is an important asset in many instances. The first fruits of the season are a real treat in flavor. Also, care of the plants, especially spraying, is reduced after the fruits are picked. This is especially valuable in the case of apples, peaches and plums.

The following varieties are suggested for the home planting because of their availability and time-proven reliability. They are listed in the order of ripening so that a sequence of ripe fruit can be enjoyed.

APPLES: Stark Earliest, Quinte, Beacon, Barry, Jonathan, Grimes Golden, Red Delicious, Spartan, Ruby, Golden Delicious, Turkey. These are imitations or sports of many of these that are highly advertised. If they are "pure" types, they may well be better adapted to the small area of a home garden.

PEARS: Maxine or Starking Delicious, Moon Glow, and Magness. These are the best

Anna Castellani, 87, Dies in Nursing Home

Mrs. Anna Castellani, 87, of 2620 Edison Ave., a native of Bulgaria, died at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Maryville Nursing Home where she had been a patient for 10 months.

A resident of Granite City for 68 years she graduated from George Washington University in Washington, D.C., in 1909. She was a member of the Methodist Church of Bulgaria.

Mrs. Castellani and her husband, the late Angela Castellani, who died in 1968, owned and managed the Swiss Dairy in Madison for 40 years.

She is survived by one niece, Mrs. George (Anka) Filloff of Granite City.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Hugh Hairston to Attend Regional NAACP Meeting

Hugh Hairston of Venice, state NAACP finance chairman and acting chairman for the local branch, will attend a Region 3 leadership training conference in Charleston, W. Va., tomorrow through Saturday.

NAACP representatives from Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin and West Virginia will attend. Workshops are to be held in education, housing, loans and employment.

of the variety that have some resistance to the fireblight disease, varieties such as Bartlett and Seckel cannot be surpassed for eating, but are too susceptible to diseases.

PEACHES: Earliglo, Sunhaven, Red Haven or Commanche, Red Haven Jubilee, Belle of Georgia (white), Cresthaven and Redskin. These would give a succession of ripening of widely adapted varieties. There are many other varieties, new and old, that could be planted with success. Varieties that are most likely to endure extreme cold temperatures, try Surecrop, Prairie Dawn, Colara, Reliance, and Madison.

PLUMS: These are usually grouped by species, and there are four common kinds. These are the European or prune-type of which Green Gage and Stanley are suggested; Damson, which Shropshire is most widely grown; Japanese, which include most of the fresh market plums for California and Michigan, Red Heart, Santa Rosa; Hybrids, which includes Premier, Superior, Ember, Sapa, and many others. Most plum varieties, especially the European and Japanese types, require cross pollination. Two or more varieties should be planted for better crops.

APRICOTS: Earli-Orange is the most reliable variety, but others such as Superb, Stella and many seedlings may perform well. Apricot trees grow to a large size, so give them plenty of room.

CHERRIES: Early Richmond and Montmorency are the most popular of the red sour cherries. Meteor and Northstar can be planted where dwarf trees are wanted. Sweet cherries are less predictable than the red sour kind, but the varieties of Yellow Glass, Black Tartarian, Van and Windsor can be planted. Two or more varieties of sweet cherries should be planted for cross pollination.

Many other fruit varieties will perform well in special situations. Try some of these if you have room.

And for a discussion of type of tree to buy and plant, obtain a copy of "Growing Tree Fruits in the Home Orchard" from Circular 1013, from the County Agriculture Extension Adviser, or the Bulletin Office, University of Illinois, Urbana.

Merchants Must Help Halt Shoplifting, Clinic Told

T. Grant Co. store told a meeting of merchants and clerks Wednesday morning, at a Shoplifting Clinic.

The Associated Retailers and Civic Association, Inc. with the assistance of Granite City, Madison and Venice police, held the clinic at the YMCA from 9:30 a.m. until 10:30 a.m.

Joe Glik, chairman of the Associated Retailers Shoplifting Committee was chairman of the meeting that attracted over 150 clerks and store managers from area retail and grocery stores.

A movie, "The Shoplifter," was shown, demonstrating the methods of both professional and amateur shoplifter.

Those attending the meeting were given a reference guide child to eat. But if he dwells unnecessarily, perhaps the food fails to suit his taste or he lacks the ability to handle it. Lack of appetite, too much talking or boredom provides other possible reasons for dawdling. If your child hasn't eaten after a reasonable length of time, quietly and calmly remove the food. Without snacks afterward, and your child will probably be ready to eat at the next meal.

When preparing and serving meals adapt to your child's ability to handle food. Too large or too small pieces of food discourage a child. Most children like finger foods, such as meat strips, carrot sticks, toast strips or lettuce wedges, because they're easy to handle. Children prefer small servings, lukewarm food, one flavor at a time, bland flavors and plain and uncooked foods. They tend to dislike coarse and rough textures in food, starchy or gummy food, stringy and tough cuts of meat, and difficult-to-manage food, such as long, slippery noodles or spaghetti.

A child's sense of degree of temperature differs from that of an adult. For instance, a food that's warm to the parent may be actually hot to the child.

Children enjoy attractive color combinations and are more apt to eat appetizing-looking food than food with a variety of textures. It's sometimes difficult to provide small appetites with all the essential nutrients. So give your child nutritious snacks, such as fruit juices, fruit, vegetables, milk, or crackers, rather than empty, high-calorie sweets.

Ethnic-Influenced Fashions for Spring

Customary with an ethnic influence leads the spring fashion parade for teens and the college-age set.

Fashion uses the term ethnic to define a form or way of dressing derived from the influence of a particular location, tradition, heritage or culture. Items with a hand-crafted look, based on customs of the different groups, generally characterize the styles.

Spring fashions are drawing on ethnic elements from many different sources — peasants, gypsies, western cowboys, Spanish gouchos and modern Afro.

Softness and femininity characterize the look of the peasant girl. Her frock calls for short puffed sleeves and a cinched waist with a full skirt. Drift colors and patterns convey this romantic look.

Today's gypsies sport scooped-out necklines, sashed waists and billowy, flared skirts. Bold patterns predominate in warm earthtones.

Western and Mediterranean ranch looks depend on intricate seaming, great detail and stitching. You can trace style variations to their origin—for example, fabulous fringe reflects the old Argentine pampas.

Shiny hardware trim and closures outline shapes. Colors are rich—usually in deep, muted solids.

The Afro influence appears in various shapes and sizes of catfash (long, loose coats), jellabas (hooded cloaks) and tunics with wide trumpet sleeves, often trimmed in embroidered banding. Primitive wrap skirts and tie-top tops expose the leg or a bared midriff — jungle style. Fabrics in dark colors with vivid African patterns of strong geometric and intricate curves keep up the jungle beat.

Ethnic-influenced costumes go to all lengths, and many are calf and ankle-grazing. But it's the mood that counts rather than the length.

Check Fiber Content of Socks

Consider the fiber content when buying socks for men and boys. Socks made from wool are warm, absorbent and elastic. Cotton socks will be soft, absorbent and cool. Socks made from nylon, a strong fiber, will be long-wearing and shrink-resistant. The acrylics offer lightweight warmth and durability. Man-made fibers are generally not so absorbent as wool or cotton. But blends of both natural and man-made fibers can offer both comfort and long wear.

YOUNG BANG CHO

Young Bang Cho Gives College Piano Recital

Young Bang Cho, Granite City High School student, was presented in a piano recital Sunday by the Fine Arts Department of Southwest Missouri State College in Springfield.

She is a pupil of Ruth Slenczynska, artist in residence at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern. Her program consisted of compositions by Beethoven, Schumann, Chopin and Bartok.

The second half of the program consisted of the allegro affettuoso movement of the Schumann Concerto in A Minor. The orchestra part was played at a second piano by a faculty member of the college.

Room, Board Grants Proposed for Students

A state-supported work-study program to aid needy students at all Illinois junior colleges, colleges and universities, both public and private, has been proposed by Frank C. Adams, director of financial assistance at Southern Illinois University.

Adams said that during the current year almost 50,000 needy students are receiving state grants and scholarships which pay tuition and fees up to $1,200 but do not meet the cost of such items as room and board. To cover these expenses many students must have part-time jobs or borrow.

Because cutbacks are expected in operating budgets of state institutions, Adams said funds for work programs will not be sufficient to meet ever existing needs, but it is anticipated that the number of grant-scholarship recipients may increase 50% next year, placing an even heavier burden on present work programs.

Adams recommended a formula of $300 per grant-scholarship recipient. Multiplied by 50,000, the total needed state-wide during 1971-72 would be a minimum of $15 million.

Madison Dog Control Bill Approved by City Council

An ordinance to control dogs in Madison was passed Tuesday night at the Madison City Council meeting after some discussion and several objections to the language of certain sections of the ordinance.

The proposal was submitted by a special ad hoc committee appointed to study the dog problem by Mayor Mike Sasyk early this year.

The new ordinance contains all provisions of the old dog control ordinance and includes several new provisions which prohibit owners from allowing their dogs to run at large, prohibit mistreatment of dogs and makes a dog which is constantly barking a public nuisance.

Objection Voiced
Alderman Ray Kozielek objected to the wording of section 2 of the ordinance concerning dogs running at large. The ordinance says, "Any dog found upon any public street, sidewalk, alley, padway or property belonging to persons other than its owners, or any unenclosed place, shall be deemed running at large." Kozielek said the wording was too general and that even dogs that broke loose or ran away for an hour would be classified as running at large and could be impounded.

Mayor Sasyk said, "That is not the purpose of this ordinance. We are not going to pick up that kind of dog." Kozielek further objected to a provision in the ordinance that requires a dog not on its owner's property to be immediately held on a leash and under the control of a person, or in an enclosed vehicle, or in a muzzle.

"This means that you can't even walk down the street with your dog walking along side of you," he said.

Objection Unanswered
The objection was unanswered and the ordinance was passed unanimously by the council.

The new ordinance calls for owners of all dogs over the age of three months to pay an annual tax of $1 for a dog tag and the tax for unspayed female dogs over the age of three months was set at $5. Deadline for paying the tax for a dog tag was set as May 1 by the ordinance. Replacement tags will cost 25 cents. All dogs are required to wear collars bearing the current tag.

The ordinance also requires all dogs to be inoculated against rabies annually, that it shall be the duty of the owner or person having custody of a dog that bites a human to immediately notify the County Rabies Inspector, that dogs which habitually bark and disturb the peace are declared a public nuisance, and that no person shall be allowed to beat, maim, abuse a dog owned by him or under his custody, or to allow the dog to go without food or shelter.

The fee for redeeming any dog from the city shelter was raised to $3 from the present $1. No dog will be released until the fee and current tax are paid.

List Penalties
Penalties for any person, firm or corporation which violates the dog ordinance was set at not less than $1 nor more than $100 for each offense and each day the violation occurs. A police report form to be used in the event of dogs biting humans or other complaints about dogs was submitted to the council by Alderman Dick Kistner. The form was accepted.

Auto Hits Barricade
An auto driven by Clyde Phipps, 2616 W. 20th St., ran into a barricade at the end of Route 151 at Niedringhaus Avenue at 4 p.m. Tuesday. The barricade and front of the auto were damaged.

Police Officer
John Bellefleur, city clerk, told the council that he has received its audit of the expenditure of 1969 motor fuel taxes by the Illinois Department of Public Works and Buildings.

8 Area Schools to Take Part in Spelling Bee

Eight schools in the Quad-Cities will send representatives to the elimination spelling bee contest in St. Louis Wednesday and again on April 17. The final bee is scheduled for May 2 with the winner advancing to the national level in Washington, D.C. in June.

Those participating in Wednesday's contest will be Timothy Gruber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Gruber, 1105 24th St., from St. Joseph Catholic School; Sam Nesbit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nesbit, 2807 Warren Ave., from St. Margaret Mary Catholic School; and Carolyn Essington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Essington, 1658 Third St., Madison, representing St. Elizabeth's High School. All are eighth grade students. This is the 19th year for spelling competition in the St. Louis metropolitan area. Each of the children participating in the elimination spelling bee will receive a ballpoint pen and a school champion shield. The winner will receive a 24-volume set of Encyclopaedia Britannica, plus other prizes to be announced later.

Other schools that will send their outstanding spellers to the second elimination contest on April 17 will be Lake Elementary school, Sacred Heart Catholic School, St. Elizabeth Catholic School, Coolidge Junior High School and Grigsby Junior High School.

Delegates from these schools will be announced later as several of the schools have not completed their local contests.

LORI KING HONOREE ON EIGHTH BIRTHDAY
Lori Ann King was guest of honor Sunday at a party to celebrate her eighth birthday. The party was given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry King, 2228 Illinois Ave. Theme of the party was "Cinderella." The table centerpiece was a large cake topped with Cinderella and a golden coach. Guests included Susan and Christopher King, sister and brother of the honoree; Mrs. Fern Sans Souci and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Martin, grandparents; and Mr. and Mrs. William McFarland and son, Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Jacquot and children, Beth and Brian, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Redman, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Williams and sons, John and David, and Miss Beverly Goodman.

The afternoon was spent playing games and opening gifts, after which a buffet dinner was served. All the children received prizes.

Lori Ann was also guest of honor at other birthday celebrations. A family dinner party was held at Noah's Ark in St. Charles and the occasion event was given by Mrs. Joseph Lavie at her home in Alton with those present — in addition to the honoree's parents, brother and sister — being Misses Theresa, Christine and Michelle Levine, Joseph Levine, Mrs. Sans Souci and Mrs. Herbert Lindner.

TROOP 103 ELECTION
Melinda Dacus opened a meeting of Brownie Troop 103 Sunday at Logan School with the Brownie promise. Darlene Moore collected Brownie gold and information sheets were given out for day camp and a mother-daughter banquet.

The Brownies brought cookies for bunny boxes to be given to patients of Alton State Hospital. New officers elected were Debbie Parker, treasurer; Denise Parks, sergeant-at-arms; and Melinda Cigelski, Belinda Parker and Laura Rigby, troop helpers.

Others present were Elizabeth Peters, Rhonda Sullivan, Sheri Farley, Phyllis Ellis, Gary Crutchfield, Selina Simpson, Linda Escobedo and two visitors, Connie Parker and Lori Hopper, and the leaders, Wanda Moore and Margaret Parker. Treats were given.

Third Baptist Planning Folk Service Sunday
"The Windo's," a Folk group, will present a Christian Folk service for those attending the Third Baptist Church, 26th St. and Grand Avenue Sunday. Time of the service is 10:40 a.m. The public is invited to attend.

The young people in the "Windo's" are of high school and college age and all live in or near Granite City. They have performed throughout the state, on TV and to live audiences numbering over 2,000 people. The philosophy of the group is to present the Christian message in a positive and appealing manner.

GC Town Budget Up; Hearing Set April 13

A new Granite City township budget of $40,648, reflecting an increase of $38,749 over that of the 1970-71 fiscal year and a rise of $106,073 over the township appropriation and tax levy of two years ago, has been posted for public inspection.

The new appropriation is now on file in the office of City Clerk Robert Stevens who also serves as town clerk, shows projected expenditures of $21,950 in the town fund, $211,688 in the general assistance (welfare) fund, and $16,000 in the municipal retirement fund. Granite City, unlike other townships in the Quad-City area, has no road and bridge fund.

Approval of the new budget is subject to a public hearing scheduled at 6 p.m. on April 13, one hour before the annual town electors' meeting, although under new state laws the town board has authority over establishing the budget figures.

In previous years the township budget and tax levy were approved by the electors in the annual town meeting. The new law takes away from the town any authority over the budget and tax levy, eliminating the final vestige of "grass roots" government.

All Funds Increased
Expenditures listed in the new budget show increases in all three funds, with most of the rise in the general assistance appropriation. The budget of $21,950 in the town fund is up $6,900 over last year's figure of $15,050, but a rise of $19,620 over the 1968-70 budget.

The general assistance fund budget for the new fiscal year which began March 1, totaling $211,688, is a rise of $30,549 over the appropriation of last year, and an increase of $90,553 over the budget of two years ago. These comparisons indicate a sharp increase in welfare costs to the township during the past two years.

Cost of municipal retirement payments by the township is budgeted at $16,000, up $1000 over the 1970-71 figure of $15,000, and up $5,500 over the appropriation of the 1968-70 fiscal year.

On the basis of these figures, $20,949 of this year's increase in the township budget is in the general assistance fund. This is approximately 90% of the overall budget increase.

A major part of the general assistance fund increase, budget figures show, is in the account for home relief where the item for food costs is listed in this year's budget at $115,000, compared to $85,000 last year.

This accounts for virtually all of the general assistance fund boost in projected expenditures. The budget for medical care, including nursing, dental and optical costs, is set at $13,000 this year, up $4,000 over last year's $9,000 figure, but the new budget shows $23,148 in unpaid bills, down from the $25,209 figure of a year ago.

Private hospitalizations costs are budgeted this year at $18,000 compared with $20,000 last year. Total administration costs for the new fiscal year are projected at $30,000, up from last year's $28,300.

In the town fund, a slight reduction is made in this year's appropriation for compensation of town officers, with a new total of $23,010, compared to $24,010 last year. Among items reduced in this account is the salary of the township assessor, set in the new budget at $13,000 compared to $13,500 last year. Fees for the board of auditors (the city council) during the new year are set at $750, down from last year's $4250.

A new item in this year's budget in the account for compensation of town officers is an item of $1,500 for "special schooling" of deputy assessors.

The town fund appropriation for auditing is unchanged at $2,200 and the cost of legal services remains the same at $5,000.

To meet projected expenditures of the 1971-72 budget, the appropriation bill now on public view proposes the sale of anticipation warrants totaling $175,000 of which $36,000 will be borrowed for town fund expenses, $70,000 for the general assistance fund and $69,000 for municipal retirement fund payments.

Such borrowing is necessary because tax collections for the 1971-72 year will not be made until the summer of 1972 to provide funds for financing this year's expenditures. This year's anticipated borrowing, however, is nearly double that required for township operation only a year ago.

Under the appropriation bill for the 1970-71 year adopted in April 1970, the township projected borrowing requirements of only $40,000 for the town fund, $45,000 for the general assistance fund and $6,000 for the municipal retirement fund, a total of $91,000 or $84,000 less than the budget says must be anticipated to meet this year's needs.

Another comparison showing highly increasing costs of township operation is the cash balance of the town fund at the beginning of this fiscal, compared to $4,339 a year ago, amounting to $7,294, compared with $21,458 at the beginning of the 1970-71 year; a balance of $4,142 in the general assistance fund at the beginning of the current year, compared with a balance of $38,159 at the beginning of the 1970-71 year, and a balance of $4,708 in the municipal retirement fund at the beginning of this fiscal, compared to $4,339 a year ago.

DAN CHUROVICH

SUPT. of STREETS

Dan Churovich, the front-runner in the race for Supt. of Streets, is a high school graduate, has eight years experience in road work with the State of Illinois, four years legislative experience on County Board of Supervisors, and is an accounting clerk.

His chief opponent, Lionell Portell—by contrast—has not in fact completed grammar school, and has no clerical, accounting or legislative experience. He claims to be qualified as Supt. of Streets because he works on the street department and worked as a sanitation worker for the previous City Sanitation Dept.

The question is: can Granite City afford to elect Portell to such a position of responsibility. We think not.

Alternative:

Elect Dan Churovich Supt. of Streets who will keep Portell as a working foreman on the street department—a job he can handle and one for which he is qualified by working experience.

KAMIL WINTER

Winter to Keynote Communications Meet at SIU-SW

Keynot speaker for the third annual Mass Communications Conference for high school students and teachers at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Friday will be Kamil Winter of Czechoslovakia, visiting professor of journalism.

Winter, who came to SIU-SW in the fall of 1969, was director of news for Czechoslovakian television until the Russian occupation. He left his country a week after the invasion, the same day the Czech leaders signed an agreement with Moscow.

Author and co-author of several books on problems of international affairs, Winter studied at Charles University in Prague from 1936 to 1939, when the Germans took over occupation of Czechoslovakia in March, and later at Cambridge University in England. From 1962 to 1965 he was chairman of the international relations department at Prague.

At 10:30 a.m., following Winter's address, the cinematography unit of a mass communications program will give a demonstration.

At 11:15 a.m. half of the conference participants will attend a newspaper program in the Communications Building auditorium; the other half will attend demonstrations in the television studio. At noon, the two groups will exchange spots.

According to Edmund Hasse, chairman of the workshop, at 1:45 p.m. a conference with a "celebrity" will afford the students the opportunity to ask questions of a professional.

"A kind of remote press conference," he calls it.

A wrap up at 2:30 p.m. by Prof. John Rider, chairman of the mass communications faculty unit and director of broadcasting services, will climax the day-long conference.

For those who come early, Hasse said, registration will begin at 8 a.m. in the Communications Building, with coffee and doughnuts and early bird tours of the radio and television facilities.

A post conference session dealing with some of the technological forecasts for mass media will be available for those who stay late, Hasse said.

MR. AND MRS. THEODORE A. NARVAEZ. They were married at St. Mary Roman Catholic Church in Madison.

Brenda Broadway is Wed To Theodore A. Narvaez

St. Mary Roman Catholic Church in Madison was the scene of the wedding March 27, of Miss Brenda Jane Broadway, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Broadway, 1022 Grand Ave., Madison and Theodore Avila Narvaez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Atencedo F. Narvaez, 1519 Market St., Madison.

The Reverend Sylvester Mick O.F.M., officiated at the 11 o'clock ceremony before the altar adorned with white gladiolus and chrysanthemums. A reception was held afterward at the Narvaez residence.

Music for the ceremony was provided by Mrs. Valerie K. Stevens at the organ.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a street length gown of chiffon over silk organza with empire styling and long chiffon sleeves with peau d'angle lace cuffs. The lace was repeated on the empire waistline and bordered the skirt. Her shoulder-length illusion veil was attached to an organza bow with pearl edged lace petal trim. The bride bouquet of white carnations was centered with a white orchid.

Miss Paula Sue Broadway, a sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She chose a street length dress with a Victorian bodice of deep purple velvet and a pleated beige chiffon skirt over organza. An orchid headpiece was trimmed with matching velvet flowers and seed pearls. Her flowers were a nosegay of orchid tinted carnations.

The bridegroom was attended by Terry Niedhardt as best man, Richard L. Balow and Barry Troits served as ushers. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Broadway chose a one-piece dress of turquoise re-em-broidered lace over taffeta with gold accessories: The bridegroom's mother was in a navy blue shantung dress with lace trim. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

The former Miss Broadway is a junior at the Madison High School where the bridegroom

Sixteen Candidates Bid for Seven Aldermanic Posts in GC Election

Battle for Street Superintendent to Spark City Election Activity Tuesday

Seek Third Ward Post Three-Way Race in Seventh Ward

Granite City voters will go to the polls Tuesday to elect a superintendent of streets and seven aldermen—one in each of the city's wards.

Opposition for the street superintendent's post will highlight the city races on a city-wide basis. All incumbent aldermen whose terms expire this year have filed for re-election and all are opposed in their respective wards. Election of aldermen will be conducted on a ward basis with voters of each ward voting only on the candidates seeking election to the one aldermanic post within the ward.

Ballot municipal elections of past years, the Granite City election on Tuesday will not be accompanied by a township election or a Granite City Park District election. There will be no Granite City township election this year under a statute requiring that incumbent assistant supervisors now in office will serve until June 1972. There was no election of a supervisor scheduled this year.

Park Election Later

The park district balloting, held in April, coincidental to the city and township elections, has been changed to the third Tuesday of April, which will be April 20 this year.

Four candidates are seeking election to the street superintendent's post—a job that will pay an annual salary of $13,000 beginning May 1. The salary previously was $9,000 per year. It was changed by city council action two months ago to become effective upon the beginning of the next term of office.

Among candidates for the street superintendent post are Clayton "Jug" Harrison and Lionel A. Portell, both presently employed on the street department work force. Portell is foreman and has been with the department 14 years. Harrison has been employed by the street department for two and a half years.

Also seeking the superintendent's office is Dan Churovich, a former state license investigator, and Thomas Nesbitt, a year member of Local 90 of the Cement Finishers and Road Builders Union, William Ward, incumbent street superintendent, did not seek re-election this year.

Morton Opposed

Everett Morin, incumbent alderman of the First Ward, is opposed by two other candidates on the ballot, but one of them, Eugene Burnett, has announced he is making no campaign to win the post since his election might conceivably pose a conflict of interest with his job. He is employed by the Illinois State Department of Labor. The other candidate in Ward One is Leroy Mangiaracino, a switchman at Lipsett Steel Products Co.

Two candidates are in the field in Ward Two. These include Sam Whitmer, incumbent, and Chris Van Nida. Whitmer is employed at Granite City Steel Co., and Van Nida is a salesman for National Auto Supply Co.

Clyde Boyd, incumbent alderman of Ward Three, is opposed by E. Jerry Walker, a security trader with Smith, Moore & Co. Boyd is a representative of the United Steelworkers of America. Polling places will open at 6 a.m. and close at 6 p.m. Results of the balloting in the city's 32 precinct polling places will be reported to the office of City Clerk Robert Stevens as soon as the vote count is completed by election judges.

Paper ballots will be used. An offer was made to the city two weeks ago by County Clerk Eulalia Hoz for use of voting machines, but ballots already had been printed. A list of polling places will be published in Monday's edition of the Press-Record.

Ward Four has a three-way race in which incumbent Alderman Claude Green is opposed by Joseph Kastelic Sr. and Wade Campbell. Kastelic presently is chief of detectives on the Granite City police department, but has retired effective April 30. Campbell is a production worker at the Phelps-Dodge plant in Venice.

Among Major Battles

One of the contests is being waged in Ward Five where Walter Nunn, an alderman for 28 years, is opposed by Willie J. Bailey of 2847 Harding Ave. Bailey is a welder at the A.O. Smith Corp. plant and a 24-year resident of Granite City.

Gerald Parmley, incumbent alderman of the Sixth Ward is opposed by Robert Cridler of 2532 Kilarney Ave. Cridler is a quality control manager for National Industries. Parmley is a supervisor at Granite City Steel Co.

man is a foundry superintendent at General Steel Industries, Inc., and Gordon has been employed 24 years at the former Union Starch & Refining Co. plant, now the Marshall Division of Miles Laboratories, Inc. This year's city election will phase out two city aldermanic terms.

For Street Superintendent

Nesbitt listed as his objective for seeking public office: "As this is the time of work I've always done, I consider myself qualified to seek this position. As a property owner and taxpayer I would like to keep politics out of this department and have no political ties. I earnestly believe this can be done."

DAN CHUROVICH

Dan Churovich, 39, a lifelong resident of Granite City, is a candidate for street superintendent of Granite City in the municipal election next Tuesday.

He is married and has two children.

Churovich said he is running for this office because: "I would like to continue to upgrade the street department in both services and efficiency. I would make every effort to keep the department independent of city hall pressures and thereby serve the people, and not be a political tool."

LIONELL A. PORTELL

Lionel A. Portell, 29, a Michigan native, is a candidate for election as Granite City street superintendent in the municipal election next Tuesday.

Portell, 39, is now a foreman of the street department and has worked with the department for 14 years.

Portell has been active in Boy Scout work and is vice-president of the Southern Illinois Chapter of Credit Unions. He is a member of the Third Baptist Church.

Of his objective in seeking the office, Portell said: "First, the department needs an experienced, knowledgeable leader. I feel I have these qualifications through 14 years experience (four years as foreman).

Second it is my belief that Granite City department scheduled, planned maintenance of all phases of this department—sewers, lift stations, streets and alleys. Third, but not least, I will make every effort to keep the department within a strict and efficient operating budget."

Boyd listed six reasons for seeking re-election. They are: 1. "To amend the present aldermanic ordinance to include on-the-spot industry inspection and to have eliminate the constant and continuous air pollutants that contaminate the entire East Granite area."

2. "To amend the ordinance to provide a reasonable return and more beneficial services for the taxpayer."

3. "To attempt to aid the retired people with some type of tax relief."

4. "To continue to oppose tax increases that do not provide a reasonable return and more beneficial services for the taxpayer."

5. "To attempt to aid the retired people with some type of tax relief."

E. JERRY WALKER

E. Jerry Walker, 31-year-old member of the Smith-Moore Brokerage Firm in St. Louis, is candidate for alderman of the Third Ward in next Tuesday's city election.

Mr. Walker is a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Knights of Columbus and the Holy Name Society of the church. He also serves as vice-president of the school PTA unit.

The April 6 election will be his first attempt to win a public office.

He said he is seeking office because of "my concern for the welfare of our community; to devote time and effort to matters which come before the city council and committees on which I would serve; and make myself available to the residents of the Third Ward regarding problems and/or new ideas."

3. "To amend the present aldermanic ordinance to include on-the-spot industry inspection and to have eliminate the constant and continuous air pollutants that contaminate the entire East Granite area."

In discussing his campaign for re-election, Dawes said: "I first ran for public office to accomplish certain much-needed improvements for our ward. I am asking the voters of my ward to return me to office so that I can complete this program and accomplish other improvements I have in mind."

A public disclosure ordinance whereby all public officials will be required to file with the city clerk each year their annual income tax records."

FROM THE STATEHOUSE

LT. GOV. PAUL SIMON

School Formula Needs Changing

The state guarantee that each school district can spend at least $520 per pupil falls far short of the average actual expenditure and as a result some districts simply cannot provide quality educational opportunities.

In the long run failure to change the formula will be costly to our state.

The complicated school aid formula needs to be overhauled and Illinois must become less reliant on the real estate tax to determine whether or not a child will have the chance for a good education.

In Massac County is the extreme example of the inequities of our present system. In one district there is an assessed valuation of $600,550 per pupil and in another district in the county there is an assessed valuation per pupil of $3,589—less than one percent of the wealthy district.

Obviously those two districts cannot give equal educational opportunities.

That low assessment district has a per pupil valuation one-eighth that of the state-wide average while the wealthy district has a per pupil valuation about 14 times the state-wide average of $27,510 per pupil.

The poor district, incidentally, has the third highest enrollment of any school district in that county, in which there are twelve school districts.

The six counties in the state with the poorest average assessed valuation per pupil are Pulaski County (Mounds and Mound City), with two school districts—one of which has a per pupil average of $5,103—with a county-wide average of $6,220; Alexander County with an average of $11,849; Williamson County (Marion), $12,075; Saline County (Harrisburg), $12,227; Hardin County (Elizabethtown), $12,233; and Pope County (Golconda), $12,716.

All six counties are in deep southern Illinois.

Much has been written about helping the economy of southern Illinois. Probably nothing handicaps the growth of that area more than the factor of under-financed schools. If in the Cairo area schools had been more adequately financed by the state through the years, would we have the economic and racial problems which exist in that community today? No one knows the answer for sure, but I doubt it.

The school aid formula needs revision badly, and the sooner we do it the better.

Views of Press-Record on City, Township, Park Election Candidates Tuesday, April 6

The Press-Record today gives its opinion on the candidates campaigning in the Tuesday, April 6 elections in the city of Granite City, the Venice park district and the townships of Nameoki, Venice and Chouteau. The terms of office are for four years except in the park district, where six-year terms will be decided. Assistant supervisors with terms expiring in 1971 do not appear on the ballots as a result of state legal interpretations. They will continue to serve on the county board of supervisors until 1972, when board members will be determined on a different basis than in the past.

Although we are voicing our preferences here for the benefit of readers who wish to know our thinking, we urge that all candidates be given full consideration by voters before they make up their minds. Biographies, pictures and comments by the candidates are presented elsewhere in this issue.

A discussion of next Tuesday's ballot contests follows:

GRANITE CITY SUPERINTENDENT OF STREETS

With William Warfield retiring as superintendent of streets, the office is being sought by four men.

Those with direct experience on the street department are Lionel A. Portell, a foreman who has been on the department 14 years, and Clayton Harrison, a member for two and a half years. Dan Churuvich has been a state highway equipment operator and foreman, and Thomas Nesbit has 25 years of experience in road building and the supervision of road construction.

Voters have a difficult selection to make and are fortunate that any of the four could serve capably. We lean toward Mr. Portell or Mr. Harrison on the basis of their association with the city street department and their knowledge of the street and sewer challenges confronting Granite City.

CITY COUNCIL OF GRANITE CITY.
FIRST WARD—Everett Morlen has become familiar with adequate responsibilities through council participation during the past four years and proposes continued public improvements.

SECOND WARD—As an alderman for 16 years, Samuel Whimer is well-versed in the functioning of the city government. His experience would be helpful in meeting the challenge of the early 1970s—making financial ends meet during an inflationary period in which residents have shown rising expectations regarding municipal services.

THIRD WARD—Clyde W. Boyd, now beginning his second decade of council service, has been one of the more effective aldermen. He ran for mayor two years ago.

His campaign platform includes a preventive maintenance program for the sewer system, control of city spending, tax relief for retired people and a requirement that city officials disclose their incomes. We believe Mr. Boyd deserves re-election.

FOURTH WARD—A three-way race includes the incumbent alderman, plus a Democratic committeeman and Joseph Kastelic Sr., who is retiring as chief of detectives in the Granite City police department. His nearly 30 years of police service have left him fully acquainted with law enforcement matters and with the municipality.

Mr. Kastelic is dedicated to the efficient provision of city services and we hope voters accord him an opportunity to continue such a role as a council member.

FIFTH WARD—Walter F. Nenn is seeking an eighth four-year council term and is thoroughly familiar with the needs of his ward. We favor his re-election.

SIXTH WARD—Gerald Parmley is the incumbent alderman and his opponent, William Crider, is a member of the Granite City board of education. We would not like to see the two public bodies become directly linked through joint membership.

In order for the present alderman and the current school board member to remain in those two positions, we favor re-election of Mr. Parmley next Tuesday.

We regard Alderman Parmley as diligent and effective, and we commend his leadership of the successful effort to obtain a water franchise this year. He would work to expedite improvements of Johnson Road and to achieve more thorough enforcement of the building code.

SEVENTH WARD—Emerald Dawes is completing a second four-year council term and is a lifelong Quad-City resident. He has been active in many local organizations and has taken keen interest in street and drainage issues involving areas of the city lacking adequate services. We favor him over two other qualified candidates.

NAMEOKI TOWNSHIP

Supervisor candidates in Nameoki township are the incumbent, who has served 16 years in the office and unsuccessfully ran for state senator in 1969, and Louis E. Whittell, the town clerk.

We favor Mr. Whittell as having the potential to lead Nameoki township into a new era of improved services and efficient administration. He has cooperated with the present town auditors to turn deficits into balances and to develop sound purchasing-bidding procedures.

Mr. Whittell not only could work well with the existing town board but has shown an ability to encourage active citizen participation.

His fellow candidate on the Democracy in Action ticket is Albert E. Bell, one of three aspirants for the post of highway commissioner. The incumbent, Robert E. Whimer, is retiring. While all three are attractive candidates, Mr. Bell has the most experience in road work and also would be able to work most effectively with the town board. He pledges attention to permanent road construction, traffic signals, street drainage and the town road intersections with state and county roads.

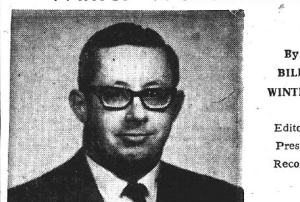

VENICE PARK, VENICE TOWNSHIP, CHOUTEAU TOWNSHIP

A candidate unopposed for re-election to Venice park board is Clifford Canner. Willie A. Teal is unopposed for a board position which is being vacated.

Also without opposition is a Venice township candidate, Frank Kinack, highway commissioner for 28 years.

Unopposed in Chouteau township is James L. Estes, incumbent highway commissioner.

WINTER

Editor,

Press-

Record

Spring has arrived, the title of this column to the contrary notwithstanding. Grass of several kinds is growing, early birds are singing and it's time to take a detailed look at the brand new month which begins today.

April inevitably must start festively, with April Fools' Day, which originated with pranks played during the confusion over adoption of a new calendar in France in 1564. But there also will be many important anniversaries and occasions this month as well.

Early April traditionally is a time for celebrating the blossoming of the beautiful cherry trees presented to the people of Washington, D. C., by the people of Japan.

Tomorrow is the anniversary of the establishment of the U. S. Mint and Saturday will mark the anniversary of the Pony Express.

Palm Sunday this year will be Sunday, April 4.
April 6 is "Old Lady Day"—Lady Day under the old style calendar. It still is remembered as a holiday in Great Britain. The same date is Chakri Day in Thailand.

And on April 6, 1830, Joseph C. Smith and Oliver Cowdery organized the Mormon Church (Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints).

April 7, believe it or not, was the birthday of Fala, the pet dog of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt. April 8 is Farmer's Day. The week of April is "national panic week."

Religious events abound this month, including Good Friday April 9, the Jewish Passover observance April 10, observance of the Salvation Army Founder's day April 10 (William Booth was born on that day in 1829 in London) and Easter Sunday April 11.

Don't forget April 12, anniversary of passage of the Halifax Independence Resolution. That was significant because the action by North Carolina on April 19, 1776, marked the first time a colony's declaration of independence.

And also don't forget National Artichoke Week—"to educate the American people on the value and versatility of fresh artichokes in their regular diet."

April 13 is the birthday of Thomas Jefferson, third U. S. president, who lived from 1743 to 1826. The following day is Pan American Day.

On April 16, Puerto Rico celebrates the 187th birth of Jose de Diego, patriot and political leader. The first U. S. flag was raised on American Samoa April 17, 1900, and constitutional government was inaugurated at Samoa on the same date six decades later.

Paul Revere made his famous ride on April 18.

The following day is Patriot's Day, commemorating the battle of Lexington and Concord in 1775. It is a legal holiday in Maine and Massachusetts.

All kinds of people were born in April—Adolf Hitler on April 20, Queen Elizabeth April 21, James Buchanan (15th U. S. president) April 23, Ulysses Simpson Grant (18th U. S. president) April 27, James Monroe (fifth U. S. president) April 28, Emperor Hirohito of Japan April 29 and Queen Juliana of the Netherlands April 30.

Rome was not built in a day, they say, but its founding has been traced to April 21 in the year 753 B. C.

Texans, who are said to regard their state's history as being as significant as that of the Roman empire, won independence from Mexico through the battle of San Jacinto April 21, 1836.

Then there are Arbor Day April 22, Turkish Sovereignty Day and English St. George's Day (the latter celebrated by wearing a red rose) April 23, New Hampshire Fast Day April 24, Anzac Day in New Zealand and Australia (landing of troops at Gallipoli during World War I) April 25, Confederate Memorial Day April 26, Day of the Telegraphist, El Salvador, April 27, International Carillon Day April 28.

The start of daylight saving time April 25 should be kept in mind.

And—last, but far from least—there is Sweden's Walpurgis Night on the last day of April, the anniversary of the Vikings' survival. If you do not understand what Walpurgis means, try a synonym—Valborgsmasskott.

PARENTS BLOCK STATE TO THROUGH TRAFFIC

To the Editor:
At 3 p.m. March 23, I tried to go past Niedringhaus School, 20, Queen Elizabeth April 21, James Buchanan (15th U. S. president) April 23, Ulysses Simpson Grant (18th U. S. president) April 27, James Monroe (fifth U. S. president) April 28, Emperor Hirohito of Japan April 29 and Queen Juliana of the Netherlands April 30.

It was absolutely impossible. Just when was an ordinance passed that allowed double open door street openings? This is a public thoroughfare and many parents picking up their children just sit there and wait until school is dismissed—regardless of other traffic waiting to get through.

There are others of us who do not have the time or patience to wait until the school is emptied before we can move on.

Not only is this double parking an inconvenience, it is also dangerous. Many of the students do not go to the corner to cross but dart out between cars to get to the bus stop. I am sure no one is interested in being there to get a parking space or to walk to the crosswalk and get their child there.

I have children in school myself and it mystifies me how some parents preach safety at home and then go out and break all the rules in the book. I am sure no one is interested in being there to get a parking space or to walk to the crosswalk and get their child there.

There are three groups of people in every community. There are a few who do not understand what Walpurgis means, try a synonym—Valborgsmasskott.

have no idea, or don't seem to care, what is happening. It is this last group to which I would like to address this message.

Once again we are about to have a city election. It is the people who don't seem to care about our government who are keeping the most qualified people out of office. They don't even bother to vote.

If we should have a large turnout April 6, I am sure the most qualified candidates would be elected. We should try our best to keep qualified leaders in office.

Any man who has leadership and ability is Tom Nesbit, candidate for superintendent of streets. Tom's greatest hope is to make our community a desirable and wholesome place to live.

He put himself into his work with great determination and is not satisfied until a job is completed.

A family man—living in Granite City all his life and understanding our problems—assurance he will do his best to protect your government who has the experience and ability to fulfill the needs of this office.

By other information, we knew the cat did not have rabies shots. Therefore, it was necessary that the cat not get away again.

The cat was clearly identified as the United States' cat, not just scratched. The cat seemed wild and always hungry. It was reported by several people.

If pet owners love their pets, they should protect them by having rabies shots for their animal, and protect citizens and the children whose parents love them so much.

PEV LETER AND MOTHER
SOME POSTERS BEING REMOVED, SOME LEFT TO THE EDITOR.
I would like to know why police are taking the posters of Dan Churuvich down from utility poles? They don't seem to be bothering the posters of Dan's opponents.

Some of the posters of last year's candidates still up, and even some of Mayor Parmley's posters are still up. So, it can't be for beautification. I think this is unfair. If they are going to take any of them down, they should take them

Molten Steel Transported to Plant

A new system expected to save considerable time and expense for the Granite City Steel Works and the St. Louis Coke & Chemical Co. has been put into effect between the two plants. Molten masses of ore, with a temperature ranging from 1,000 to 2,000 degrees, are being moved from the Chicago plant in ladles loaded on cars specially designed for use at the steel works. This saves the time of the metal being cooled, made into pigs and then re-melted at the plant.

The June 1921 class of Granite City High School, consisting of 25 boys and girls, will be headed by Mildred Davis as valedictorian, Agnes Schmidt, salutatorian and Verna Derrow, third.

Mrs. W. G. Davis, 2207 B St., president of the East St. Louis District of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, was entertained in Edwardsville by the WHMS Auxiliary.

Book Review—Entertaining Secret Agent Story With British Heroine

A KILLING AFFAIR. By Peter Baker. Houghton Mifflin. $4.95.

For fans who enjoy the spy novel, this British novel is well, here is a variant. It has a heroine rather than a hero, and she's no spy herself.

This is a story about Minnie Swan, who has both brains and allure.

She works for the British foreign office, and it happens that she has fallen in love with Bill Emerson, an American she has met on one of her trips to the Continent. How was she to plot snapper right on the final pages.

The entertainment value of this thriller is first-rate, and it is signed to the staff of a cabinet minister she has to have a full security clearance, which is handled by an intelligence officer named Adrian Webb.

This Webb, without letting her know, uses her as bait for a spy trap. That leads to all sorts of violent complications, including the murder of an agent who was supposed to be protecting her.

When the shakedown comes, our heroine has a life and death gamble with an assassin, and then a final confrontation with the villain. There is a plot snapper right on the final pages.

Steel Joist Future Hinges On Greater Profits--Akin

Laclede Steel Co. may discontinue the fabrication of steel joists, President Paul B. Akin has informed stockholders in summarizing 1970 operations prior to the annual meeting to be held May 20 at the company offices in the Arcade Building, St. Louis.

"One department that did poorly from a profitability standpoint was our joist fabricating facility at the Madison plant," Akin related.

"Competition in this high-labor product from manufacturers with lower wage rates than Laclede's has driven the price of steel joists down to 1957 levels.

"We have accordingly reduced our joist sales in the last two years to a point that they are now an insignificant part of our product mix. If the profitability of this product line cannot be improved soon, we may discontinue the fabrication of steel joists."

In reviewing the overall performance of the company in 1970, President Akin noted that the net loss amounted to $4,999,333. He continued:

"Although this is a considerable loss, I am very pleased with the progress we made in our operations."

"In my letters of May, August and November, I stated that we were having difficulty getting the new prestressed mill up to acceptable production levels, and that we were being forced to pay very high prices to obtain our primary raw material, ferrous scrap."

"By year end the higher scrap prices had lowered our earnings by almost $7,000,000."

"When we consider our operating loss for 1970, Laclede's increased scrap cost, it becomes obvious that many improvements were made."

TEACHERS Summer Employment

We are interviewing teachers for summer employment during Easter Holiday. For Information: Come and get acquainted at coffee. This Saturday morning at LEWIS-CLARK RESTAURANT, Rt. 3, East Alton, Ill., at 10 A.M.

Mr. Johnston

"There were remarkable improvements during 1970 in our production departments."

"The sales department succeeded in getting many price increases during the year and helped our operations by avoiding numerous low-profit orders."

"Throughout the company, many management duties were reassigned, programs that could be postponed were postponed and by year end the salary force had been gradually reduced by more than 10%."

"The improvements listed and many others blunted the heavy blow of increased scrap costs. If the prestressed mill had been operating at its potential during 1970, all of the extra scrap costs would have been offset."

"The operation of this new mill did improve steadily all year, and with the present rate of progress, it will be producing at acceptable levels soon."

"In view of the adverse events that beset the company during the year, we decided that it would be prudent to revise our long-term financial and operating data."

"It was agreed that the heavy debt payments falling due in 1971 and 1972 should be spread out over four years, and that payments should start late in 1972."

"We plan to retire our current debt of $3,000,000 by September of this year."

"Management Continuity. A new provision to our note agreement with Prudential became effective along with the revised debt maturity changes on Dec. 1, 1970."

"The new provision states that payment of the note within 90 days may be required if Laclede has a change of management."

"The continuity of management covenant is not spelled out in general terms, but states precisely that this provision may be invoked if any two of six specific key individuals leave the company."

"Naturally, if this provision were employed, the bulk of the notes due the three St. Louis banks would also be payable at the same time.

"The new management provision was initiated and required by our lenders, and it may well be construed as a vote of confidence in the present management."

Ecological Aspect

"Laclede's management is well aware of the company's ecological problems. Although many of these problems have been corrected, we still have some to overcome."

"It is and has always been our intent to meet these obligations to our employees and to our communities."

"We will continue to devote the necessary time and resources to find and install lasting solutions to these ecological problems that are consistent with local, state and federal regulations."

"At present, several factors that will influence Laclede's profitability for 1971 are evident."

Scrap Exports Down

"First, the low demand for steel abroad has almost stopped the export of scrap from this country."

"With no support from the export market, scrap prices will continue to fall, and this will help Laclede's earnings."

"Secondly, labor negotiations for the steel industry take place this year with a contract deadline of Aug. 1."

"This has caused steel users to make heavier than normal purchases of steel products to build inventories against the possibility of a steel production work stoppage."

"Although Laclede's labor contract expires later than the industry contract, we already have a heavy backlog of orders and expect this condition to continue for several months."

"Thirdly, the pre-stressed mill is now producing significant tonnages of merchant bars and this will also help our earnings."

"In all, present indications point to a profitable operation for Laclede in 1971," Akin concluded.

ANNUAL STYLE SHOW of the Granite City Junior Service Club this week. Left to right above are Dr. Ober Lay wearing a sports outfit from Schermer's Men's and Boys' Store, Mrs. Linda Saltich in an evening pant dress from Marilyn's House of Fashion and Mrs. Carol Tritschuh in a pant suit from Rich's. The latter two were co-chairmen of the fashion show and Mrs. Tritschuh is the 1971-72 club president.

Next is "The Bridge" musical group with Jenene Unfried modeling a pant suit from Leader's Department Store. Below them are Mrs. Rose Hilker and children, Robin, Rhonda and Rebecca, shown backstage in sports ensembles from Grant's. The next three pictures show Ken Perkins affixed in slacks and a "crushed leather look" jacket from Traftler's, Bill Herman in a Glik's pastel sports outfit and Kathy Weissenborn in hot pants from Carpi's.

350 Attend Junior Service Style Show

More than 350 people attended the annual fashion show and tea, sponsored by the Granite City Junior Service Club Sunday afternoon at the YMCA. Mrs. Carol Tritschuh and Mrs. Linda Saltich were co-chairmen for the "Fashions on the Move" style show.

Ron Jacober, well-known sportscaster, served as commentator for the 100 models who gave a preview of spring and summer fashions for women, men and youngsters. Local retailers who provided the latest styles were Glik's Department Store, Marilyn's House of Fashion, Leader Department Store, W.T. Grant Department Store, Traftler's Men's and Boys, Libson Shops, Carpi's Department Store, Schermer's Men's and Boys' Shop, Stefanie Shop, Miss Judy's Fashions for Young Girls, The Sewing Box, The Children's Shop and Fab 'N' Trim. Shoes were furnished by Nieburs, Daniels, Gamm and Rubenstein's stores.

Mrs. Charlene Pohlan, Junior Service Club president, welcomed the guests and those participating in the afternoon program.

Entertainment was furnished by "The Bridge," a guitar folk group from St. Joseph Catholic Church. The musicians played several selections for a group of youngsters to perform. Taking part in the entertainment were Lori Saltich, Christine Wright, Jennie Robinson, Kathy Grisham, Rosemarie Boyd, Donna Roseman, Elaine Noth and Scott Harrison.

During the intermission, finger sandwiches, petit fours, tea, cookies, coffee and punch were served by Mrs. Mary Schaffner, chairwoman, and committee. "The Bridge" played a special song, "Sunny," for the soloist, Jenene Unfried.

Mrs. Sharon Kline, decorations chairman, used artificial poms in bright spring colors to decorate the hall and as centerpieces on the tables. Mel Kline furnished drapes as a backdrop for the stage and runway. Flowers bordered the runway, co-ordinating the color motif. A large mirrored ball, suspended from the ceiling, projected lights on the runway, illuminating the models as they appeared.

Appreciation was extended to the participating merchants and to Mercer Funeral Home which furnished chairs and St. Joseph Church which provided tables. Prizes were won by Mary Ann Roman, Connie Zarlingo, Pete Jaeger, Mrs. Frances Peltan, Nancy Heith, Jackie Boggs, Kathy French, Mabel A. Long, Mrs. R.F. Luebert, Marlene Taylor, Grace Lensing, Betty Williams, Donna Peterson, Marvin Eddington.

Maple Trees Planted Near New Hospital Wing

Perfect early spring weather experienced here this week enabled representatives of the Gardenaires Club to plant six maple trees alongside the new wing at St. Elizabeth Hospital. The beautification project was made possible through a gift of 12 trees, donated to the Gardenaires by the Union Division of Miles Laboratories, Mrs. Earl Glenn, civic prospects chairman for the group, explained. The dozen trees originally were destined to be planted at the club-sponsored tree nursery, located near the city water pollution plant. However, the size of the trees, when delivered, permitted them to be situated immediately in a permanent location, Mrs. Glenn explained. An extremely hardy tree, those planted this week were about 8 feet tall. Studies disclose the maple is very adaptable to city environment and related conditions, the Gardenaires official explained.

The remaining trees will be planted in the proposed mall area on the Iowa Street side of St. Elizabeth Hospital when the hospital construction program is completed, Mrs. Glenn said. Mrs. Albert A. Malotki Jr., president of the Gardenaires, assisted in the planting Monday.

Exhibition, Reception Sunday For SIU-SW Artist Don Davis

Nostalgia permeates Don Davis' art exhibition which goes on display Sunday in the lobby of the Communications Building at Southern Illinois University's Southwestern campus.

Five of the 20 acrylic paintings which comprise the SIU artist's show, running through April 28, were inspired from family photographs going back to 1900. Davis calls this series "Pickaway County" because the photos were taken in his home county in Ohio. The series typifies pictures taken in the early 1900's by itinerant photographers, who stiffly posed their subjects in front of their homes. Also in the Davis show are figure studies, still life, and what the artist calls "semi-landscapes" because some include an object. Even these are nostalgic, Davis points out, because the objects "are things I have seen or collected at farm and antique auctions."

Davis, an avid antique collector, says his painting this year has been influenced by his hobby. All of the works in his new show have been done since last September.

A teacher at DePaul University in Greenacres, Ind., and Ohio State University, Davis came to SIU-SW in 1968 from Vanderbilt University. He received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from Ohio University and his master's in painting and graphics from Ohio State.

During the past few months Davis has had two one-man shows in Missouri. A reception for the SIU artist will be held Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Communications Building lobby. The public is invited.

Coolidge Concert Band Achieves 4th Superior Award, Draws Judges Praise

Coolidge Junior High School Band received first superior rating for the fourth consecutive year at the District Band Contest, held during the weekend at Belleville Emge School. The youthful music group was acclaimed "a most outstanding band that performed to perfection."

The 92-member band composed of 7th, 8th and 9th grade students, under the direction of Robert D. Todoroff, was judged in the Class AA band category. The first superior rating is the highest obtainable for an outstanding performance.

The fourth year of band competition for the school, the Coolidge Band has consistently been awarded first superior ratings in both district and state band contests.

For the three required selections, the band performed, "Old Comrades," a march by Theke; "Incidental Suite," by Smith; and "Proclamation," by Carter.

The band will now advance to state competition to be held in Centralia, Saturday, April 24. The Coolidge musicians also will present a spring concert early in May for local residents. The contest selections will comprise part of the program. The sole student music group from the Quad-Cities to compete in the annual District Band Contest, as opposed to entering District Solo and Ensemble competition, the Coolidge Band received high praise from a trio of judges. Judge William Cohnmeyer noted: "A tremendous band, superior in all respects. I am amazed every time I hear it. Most sincere congratulations. They have superior training."

Judge Jean McCormick expressed her approval by commenting, "The band's outstanding strong points include tone, quality, precision and discipline."

A third judge, C. L. Hughes, remarked, "Our heartfelt congratulations to a superior conductor and a superior group of young ladies and gentlemen. Just remarkable for young people to play such difficult material with such a mature concept of all aspects of music," he concluded.

Members of the concert band by sections are: oboe: Carolyn Goldschick, Lori Houser; flute: Sherry Beatty, Mardi Bunch, Elizabeth Graf, Jeri Johnson, Kim Lindner, Maureen McFain, Brenda Manogian, Dawn Oram, Greg Schubert. Clarinet: Patty Bode, Kathleen Cross, Tamara Duff, Kathleen Ellsworth, Magdelene Frey, Diane Goodman, Elizabeth Hoff, Alice Miller, William Mullins, Cynthia Rae, Cindy Robertson, Carolyn Schneider, Michele Smith, Denise Spahr, Robin Stanton, Linda Thompson, Sandra White, Paula Williams, Shirley Young. Several social problems have received as much attention as its result in as little agreement about what should be done as the marijuana problem, according to Dr. Stanley E. Grupp, professor of sociology at Illinois State University.

"Unfortunately," Dr. Grupp, who has done widespread research on marijuana use, adds, "the definitive answers that can be given are limited." And as a result, he comments, the marijuana problem has "rapidly degenerated into the marijuana muddle."

"The impetus in the public's concern about marijuana," the ISU educator says, "is its expansive use in the middle and upper classes, as well as its association with the dissident, the disenchanted, the sloven as well as the hippie groups. . . Had the use of marijuana remained confined to the black and Mexican communities and among dance band musicians, an increase in use notwithstanding, it probably would not be receiving the extraordinary attention that it is today."

Marijuana 'Muddle' Confuses Citizens, Police, Courts

Is marijuana an addicting drug, as many claim? There is no evidence, Dr. Grupp says, of marijuana creating a physical dependence on it in order to sustain physical stability, nor does it require an increase in dosage to achieve the same effect as before. However, there is evidence, he notes, that marijuana may be "mildly habituating" for the person who finds the experience pleasurable and likes to repeat the experience.

There is popular belief — a myth, he called it — that marijuana smokers are easily recognized by their appearance and behavior. Dr. Grupp declares he knows of no evidence to prove this — "in fact, one of the more notable aspects of marijuana use is the ability to hide it," he commented.

The National Institute of Mental Health has been unable to identify any substantial health hazards associated with marijuana usage, he said. However, he warned that one should not overlook "the possibility that a future investigations may establish that certain patterns of marijuana consumption may be found to be more hazardous than currently established."

The view that persons who smoke marijuana inevitably end up using heroin is no longer accepted by informed persons, the sociologist pointed out. However, "it must be admitted that the relationship between marijuana and the use of opiates is not understood." His own investigations have shown that many marijuana users claim to have had an opportunity to use heroin although none actually had done so.

There are those who deny there are any dangers surrounding the use of marijuana, Dr. Grupp says, but it is his belief that the use of marijuana may be associated with or accompanied by other occurrences — "side effects," he called them — which are dangerous.

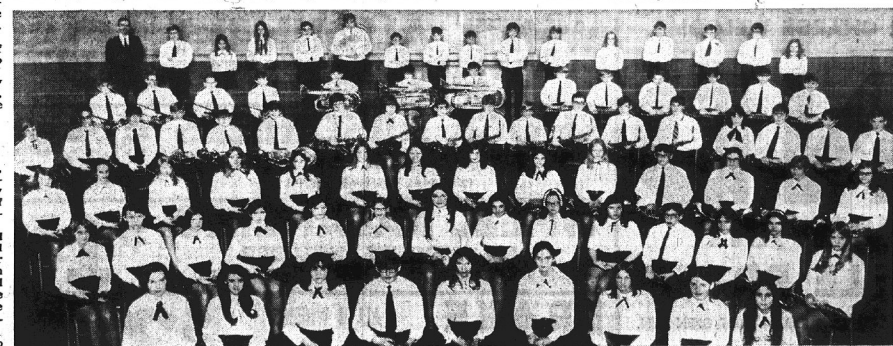

Law enforcement agencies, according to the sociologist, are directing an increasing amount of effort into marijuana law enforcement. Evidence shows a marked increase in the number of arrests in recent years although the rate now seems to be slackening. Although courts vary from place to place, generally they tend to be more lenient than police, the proportion of convictions in relation to arrests having decreased, and probation is being used increasingly in cases of conviction, he said.

Court/Police Balance

The disparity between enforcement by police and disposition of cases in courts has the effect "of disorganizing and vitiating the effectiveness of law enforcement," Dr. Grupp said. "It is difficult to understand how the deterrent function of the traditional function of the police, can operate and be sustained under these disparate circumstances."

"We have presented the police with an impossible situation. A balance needs to be sought so that there is greater consistency between what we expect of the police and the response of the judicial system."

Two trends characterize the "marijuana muddle," Dr. Grupp said. One is liberal, "a demand for reconsideration, amendment, or elimination of criminal sanctions against the marijuana users." The other is punitive to retain the laws against marijuana and to enforce them vigorously. "We have present state of our knowledge about marijuana," he remarked, "do the benefits of criminalization outweigh the liabilities?" Without offering an answer, the professor added, "This is basically an ethical and moral question which extends far beyond one's personal preference for the use or non-use of marijuana."

superior rating in district competition for the fourth consecutive year. It will advance to the state instrumental music contest April 24 in Centralia.

SIU Decal Identifies Owner of Stolen Auto

A Southern Illinois University-Southwestern parking decal and the efforts of Officer J.L. McGhee of the Security Office resulted in identification of a stolen auto left stripped and abandoned on the Mississippi River banks.

The 1970 red Camaro belonged to Joseph Garrett, an SIU-SW student from Caseyville. The St. Louis Police Department contacted SIU security people last Thursday about the car, which had all identification numbers cut off and destroyed except a small portion of the SIU decal.

The decal had the numbers scraped off, so Officer McGhee spent several hours searching through more than one thousand student parking permits in an attempt to find the owner.

He called numerous students who owned the same color and type of car before finding the owner. The car had been stolen from in front of Garrett's home early in February.

That this is the price we

Since our great sorrow fell:
The shock that we received that

Only that he did his duty—
And he bravely fought.

Students, Educators, Not Government, Will Solve Campus Unrest—Howlett

The eventual solution to campus unrest will come from students and college administrators, not from government, according to Michael J. Howlett, state Auditor of Public Accounts.

Howlett, addressing the state convention of the Midwest Truckers Association at Springfield, told the group:

"More young people are going to college here in Illinois than ever before—43,692 as of the September enrollment. Of that figure 311,831 were in the tax-supported institutions, and 121,831 in private schools.

"In this nation, we have more people in schools of all kinds than there are in the entire full-time labor force. They are the best educated generation in history.

"Protests Diminished
"Maybe we should keep our fingers crossed, but student protest this year seems to be diminished from last year.

"Demonstrations are fewer. There isn't so much harassment of company representatives who come to the campus seeking to employ graduating seniors. Next thing you know, student educators will actually be looking for jobs as college presidents.

"The weather may have something to do with it. Winter is a bad time for marches. But I prefer to believe there is an improvement in discipline on campus and an inclination among students to restrain their own most radical members.

"Several months ago, the League for Industrial Democracy reported the radical movement is disintegrating among students. The League, incidentally, is no voice of the establishment. It was founded 66 years ago by three of the great radicals of American history—Upton Sinclair, Clarence Darrow and Jack London.

"A survey of 50 campuses by the League found only 8.9% of student leaders favored the New Left. An equal number said they were conservatives. About 30.5% were liberals. All the rest were either moderates or followers of conventional party politics.

"The report indicates student radicals have lost any chance they ever had of winning support of the majority of students.

Provoked Opposition
"The New Left has provoked the opposition of business, labor, the blacks and white-collar workers. It has destroyed any possibility of becoming a mass movement.

"It is not practical to expect Congress or the Illinois General Assembly or President Nixon or Governor Ogilvie to put an end to campus unrest. A solution is coming, but it will come from the colleges themselves—the administrators and the students.

"Of the 443,692 who enrolled in Illinois colleges this year, there may be some who went there to dodge the draft. There may be some who went there seeking a life-time partner. There may be some who went there only because their parents pushed them. But, I would bet they all want to make something of their lives.

"The hundreds of thousands who went to college for an education are not going to be stopped by the small minority of wild thinkers among them."

Conduct Charge Filed

James Taylor, 22, of 3905 Kirkpatrick Homes, was arrested at 12:05 a.m. Tuesday on a disorderly conduct charge in connection with siphoning gasoline from autos. A juvenile who also was arrested was released to his parents.
